

New plant improves GC Steel's outlook

Production will begin in mid-September at the Granite City plant of Michigan Metal Processing Corporation, an industry new to this area.

The new facility is expected to make possible a substantial increase in production at the region's largest steel producer, the Granite City Steel Division of National Steel Corporation, division officials said Saturday.

Michigan Metal Processing, which specializes in batch picking or cleaning of coils of hot rolled steel, has reactivated 210,000 square feet of industrial building in the former General Steel Castings plant at 1425 State St., Granite City.

The 118-acre plant, once the second largest employer in the Quad-Cities, was closed by its former owners in 1972 and was purchased in 1974 by Granite City Steel.

The City Council of Granite City in May approved issuance of $1 million in industrial revenue bonds to help finance installation of electric overhead traveling cranes, tanks and other facilities used in batch picking and equipment for various finishing operations, including slitting, leveling and cutting to length.

Carl F. McDevitt is chairman of the board and John H. Frazier Jr. is president of Michigan Metal Processing, which operates plants similar to the one here at Detroit, where the firm has its headquarters, and Cleveland.

They said the new Granite City plant will begin production with about 50 employees. Employment will increase to between 100 and 150 men and women when the plant becomes fully operational and is processing up to 25,000 tons of hot rolled steel per month.

Robert P. Deeters, who has more than 30 years experience in the steel processing and service center field, has been appointed general manager of the Granite City plant of Michigan Metal Processing. The initial customer for the new plant will be plant which Kelsey-Hayes opened recently in Sedalia, Mo., to manufacture automobile and truck wheels for assembly plants in St. Louis, Kansas City and elsewhere in the Midwest.

James V. Stack, president of Granite City Steel, said the ability of Michigan Metal to pickle heavy-gauge hot rolled steel coils "will open new markets for us and should ultimately lead to a significant increase in our production."

With more than 4,600 employees, Granite City Steel is the largest employer in the Illinois part of the bi-state St. Louis area.

"This is an important development for Granite City Steel as well as Michigan Metal Processing," Pres. Stack said. "Our 40-inch hot strip mill, one of the few hot mills in the U.S. steel industry capable of rolling thicknesses of more than 3/4-inch in coil form, is only a few blocks from the building area that Michigan Metal Processing has leased from Granite City Steel for its new plant.

"We can now supplement our own production facilities for pickling of our hot rolled coils up to 3/4-inch thick."

"We expect to become a strong, dependable supplier of heavy gauge pickled and leveled steel in coil form."

"This will enable us to supply a substantial tonnage of steel to the manufacturers of tractor parts, diggers, graders, off-road equipment and other heavy-duty machinery, as well as for automobile and truck wheels."

The two companies plan to add production facilities in 1979 which will enable Granite City Steel to produce and Michigan Metal Processing to pickle and process coils of steel up to 3/4-inch thick.

"This is thicker than any flat rolled steel now being produced in coil form in the U.S. The coils received from Granite City Steel will be up to 76 inches wide, Stack said."

Granite City officials and civic leaders have been invited to a ribbon-cutting ceremony at the Michigan Metal Processing plant at 4 p.m. Thursday.

McDevitt, Frazier, William E. Liesman of Detroit, executive vice-president, and other officers of Michigan Metal Processing will be present for an inspection of their new facilities, followed by a dinner which Granite City Steel is giving in their honor at Sunset Hills Country Club.

Seith favors legislation to benefit steel

By HARRY BARNES

Press-Record Staff Writer
Chicago lawyer Alex Seith—running on the Democratic ticket against incumbent U.S. Senator Charles H. Percy in the November general election—moved into the Quad-City area Monday in his door-knocking campaign.

Fresh from a debate with Percy at Carbondale Sunday in which the two candidates gave 60-minute talks on "Energy and Agriculture," Seith began his door-to-door campaign in several residential areas of Granite City during the morning of Labor Day.

He visited Collinsville during the afternoon and returned here Monday evening, when he was a guest at a reception given by Paul Ray Bowler, an alderman of Granite City's Seventh Ward.

Primarily, Seith spoke to voters of his proposals for legislation to help the steel industry, and of Percy's record.

Seith said the record is one of "voting against tax cuts," although he now is campaigning on promises to bring about a cut in taxes.

The candidate also spent part of his time yesterday shaking hands with shoppers in Granite City shopping centers.

And at 6 a.m. today he was on hand with workers during their shift change. He planned to go today to East St. Louis and Edwardsville, and carry his campaign to Alton and East Alton on Wednesday.

Seith said he is a proponent of legislation that would benefit the American steel industry in its competition with foreign steel production.

"Our greatest need is for new laws that would protect domestic steelmakers against foreign 'dumping' of steel products at lower prices," he said.

"American industry can meet fair competition, but it cannot compete with unfair competition," Seith said, explaining that lower prices are created by foreign sources, particularly the Japanese, by their failure to quote full production costs.

"A worker in Japan receives benefits far in excess of those given our workers," he said.

"In Japan, steelworkers have their rent paid and receive many other benefits which are not included as a cost of production when prices are set."

Seith said he will propose legislation requiring all foreign steel producers and importers to produce a fair statement of

Beaten, robbed

A Venice man was beaten and he and his wife were robbed by an armed bandit early Saturday morning as they started to get into their car at the rear of 1311 Iowa St. in Madison.

The robber, apparently accompanied by another man whom the victims did not see, escaped with the woman's purse, which contained $54 cash and six or seven diamond rings, and a box containing $60.

Ronald Inman, 1323 Klein St., Venice, and his wife, Mrs. Joan Inman, were leaving the home of David Costello, a friend, who was accompanying them, when a man struck him in the face and knocked him down.

The robber placed a gun to his head and said, "Give me all the money or I'll kill you." As he fell, he grabbed his wife's purse and held it to it.

The bandit then kicked him and Inman heard the gun click. The man again told him to give him the money or he would be killed.

Inman said he released his hold on his wife's purse and the man took it, saying, "Come on, Frank, let's go."

Mr. and Mrs. Inman had met Costello at a tavern where Costello works and, at closing time, they decided to go something to eat. Costello wanted to change clothes first and they went to his home at 1311 Iowa St.

The robbery occurred as they were leaving the Costello home at about 2:30 a.m.

In another incident, at 9 p.m. Saturday,

Antagonism from other police and friendship between him and "bad guys" were cited by Ronald Gryzwacz in a security telephone conversation that was an exhibit in the trial of Gryzwacz, Richard Krieschok and Edward Goclan this summer.

The late Walter Young, one time Collinsville Road bawdy house operator, said in part of the phone call that he agreed with the comment that "when I (Gryzwacz) stepped out of the picture (sheriff department investigative contracts) on this thing, these sons of guns had to keep on going. They had to keep working for him, pickin' up money and doin' things."

Y. "Hey, I do know that. Hey, I do know, it's bad enough if a guy says, hey, me and you're friends, let me do this for ya. But when they get your money and they're supposed to be doin' somethin' and then they sit back and let some jerk come in and let them do it to ya."

"And then they sit back and, hey, you ain't supposed to do nothin' to me now," G. "Yeah."

Y. "Now, see, that don't make sense to me."

G. "It don't make sense to me, either. I'll tell ya, you know, me and you talked about this before several times."

"Uh, I was just used, that's all."

Y. "Hey, I do know that. And they, but me and Kitty was sittin' here. We've been talkin' about it for an hour and a half. And I've been tryin' to call ya, like 30 minutes."

G. "Well, I tell ya what happened is, uh, remember Ed Goclan?"

Y. "Yeah."

G. "My partner? Well, he come back in tonight."

"He just walked in the gosh darn house. And he called his wife back in Pine Bluff and uh, told her that he's all right, and everything."

"And, and he's comin' back to work construction with us, cause he lost his rear up there in that restaurant."

G. "Yeah."

Y. "Well I'll tell ya somethin'. Since, he left that car wash, he's blowed everything, ain't he?"

G. "Yeah. He's blowed his house, the car wash and everything. And he didn't have a place to stay. I told him to stay here, but he wouldn't. He was just stoppin' by to talk and he was on the phone talkin' to his wife all the time."

Y. "Well, Jesus Christ. Ain't that somethin'?"

G. "Yeah, I got teed off about me pickin' the bluff, all this money up. And my family and my wife and everybody sufferin' financially."

"And I went on to tell him that, uh, you know, that I felt that you should reimburse me for some of these things."

"That, uh, that I had collected for you, that you had a good time on."

"And I was strictly doin' the job darn thing except an investigation."

"And, uh, it's just all uncalled for. And I think that maybe if you don't reimburse me with some money financially, somewhere along the line, that we all may be up in front of the grand jury. And I signed my name to it."

G. "And I was being real truthful with him?"

Y. "No. I ain't heard anything from him."

Y. "Well, I'll be. And you had to send him a letter cause the son of gun wouldn't talk to ya on the phone, probably."

G. "That's right. Ya know, he wouldn't even come by and see me. You know, thank God, the only thing — like I told ya before — is I got a legal document from the son of a gun a long time ago, showin' that I was doin' investigation for his department."

Y. "Uh huh."

G. "Well I'd be hangin' out there on a big limb. But really, ya know, if you stop and think, I was an outsider. I didn't even work for the Sheriff's Department."

Y. "I know it. Hey, I do know it."

G. "I wouldn't have done anything with the sheriff unless someone gave me some authority or some proof."

Y. "That is right."

G. "From someone — that I was involved with the Sheriff's Department."

Y. "That is right. Well, you told me when you came there. I mean what the deal was."

G. "Right."

G. "I'm like everybody else."

G. "But I'll tell you somethin', Romie, them's got to be the phoniest, backstabbin' best bunch of friends to each other I've ever seen in my life."

"A friend like that, man, you don't ever wanna have an enemy."

G. "Ha Ha Ha! You don't have to tell me that. I learned the hard way."

Y. "Oh, Christ."

G. "You know, I'll tell ya, I had some friends, you know."

"That's the police department — and all the guys on the police department they were all really down on me — like Guy Wallace and Kenny Allen and a few of

Rising star Orender returning to entertain

Returning in triumph from Nashville, Tenn., where fame or disappointment is encountered by many hopeful musicians and entertainers, is Granite Cityan Dewayne Orender.

He and his band will be in the spotlight Saturday night at the annual Mitchell Athletic Association fall festival on East Chain of Rocks Road at Greenwood.

A singer, instrumentalist and song writer, Orender has been busy during the five years he has spent in the Nashville area.

In that time, he has had 46 songs recorded — by such performers as Connie Smith, Faron Young, Moe Bandy, Don Gibson and others.

"I have recently started my own production company, and have just completed a recording session from which Faron Young Jr. records soon will be released," Orender told the Press-Record.

"I'm presently working with Danny Davis and the Nashville Brass."

"I'm also recording on the albums with Danny Davis. And I just completed a tour with Dave and Sugar and with Bonnie Tyler, who has the big hit on 'It's a Heartache.'"

Jaycees donate $10,000 to South lighting fund

The Granite City Jaycees have pledged a $10,000 donation to the Granite City South sports complex lighting fund. The club will give the fund $1,000 per month for a ten-month period.

Danny Poston, president of the club, has issued a challenge to the other service clubs in Granite City to match his club's donation.

The Jaycees are using money from a building fund started four years ago to finance a club house for the organization.

"We have the best soccer program in the state and it's time we had a facility that will reflect this excellence," Poston commented.

"Our club has held a homecoming carnival in Granite City for the past 15 years but last year we couldn't find a site that could be used for the purpose. We feel that perhaps our image of public service has been forgotten, so we are going to help with this project as much as we can to regain this image," says Poston.

The club also has pledged to help with future money-raising activities for the lighting fund with all the manpower and resources it has.

Joseph McGovern, 45, dies

A 45-year-old Pontoon Beach man, Joseph K. McGovern, was found in his mobile home by Pontoon Beach police at 2:51 p.m. Monday. They had been directed to a different address and had expended about 13 minutes attempting to find the correct mobile home. He was pronounced dead at 3:36 p.m. Monday at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

An inquest is pending. Granite City authorities received a call at 2:22 p.m. Monday from a woman in Little Rock, Ark., who asked officers to go to 9 Kaseberg Park to investigate a possible overdose on a request by the same persons to erect an advertising sign 65 feet high, exceeding the zoning board's 30-foot limit.

Time table for new veterans

Veterans separated from military service may not hear from the Department of Defense until they finish their reserve commitment and receive a discharge — but during the first six months following separation, veterans will certainly hear from the Veterans Administration.

VA cranks up a major information reinforcement effort as soon as the DOD sends word of a veteran's separation.

In its first letter to a veteran, VA encourages him to contact the nearest VA regional office, or a representative of a veterans service organization — for benefits' details and how to apply.

Follow-up mailings continue for six months. These tell the veteran how to get a GI home loan, condominium and mobile home loans, plus information on insurance and educational programs.

Then, at the end of the six months, the VA sends a round-up letter, reviewing and reminding the veteran of benefits.

Following is the timetable the VA uses to inform new veterans, and VA Administrator Max Cleland hopes it will be the timetable veterans themselves follow in making the transition back to civilian life. He feels it is "an excellent chart for setting and pursuing individual educational, vocational training, and employment goals."

Here's a checklist for new veterans:

1. On arrival at home — register with local state employment service office. The longer you remain unemployed before you apply for unemployment compensation, the lower the rate.

2. Within 90 days — apply to former employer for re-employment.

3. In 120 days — (up to one year if totally disabled) convert Servicemen's Group Life Insurance to five-year Veterans' Group Life Insurance. By applying within 120 days of separation, you don't need a physical examination.

4. Within one year from date of discharge — apply to VA for service-disabled veterans' insurance (RH) based on qualifying service-connected disability.

5. Within one year — apply to VA for dental care.

6. As soon as possible — apply to VA for GI education or training. Eligibility extends 10 years beyond military service, but not later than Dec. 31, 1989.

There are no time limits for:

A. Apply for GI loan guaranty to buy, build or improve a home.

B. File claim with VA for disability compensation for service-connected disabilities or diseases, or apply for hospital care.

C. Seek assistance from local state employment offices in finding work or entering Labor Department job-training programs.

all costs, with penalties to be assessed if they fail to do so.

"If anyone would refuse to give such information, it would be assumed they are dumping," he asserted.

Legislation that assessed penalties be greatly advantageous to the steel industry because it would provide quick action against lower price competition by foreign producers, Seith said, explaining: "Presently, an American steel producer can be certain in his own mind that a foreign producer has falsely created a lower price, but he would have to file a suit under fair trade laws and would have the burden of providing the charge.

"This could take one, two or even three years and is a costly procedure. Many of our producers say, 'What's the use? The cost and trouble is not worth it.'"

Seith said he also will propose new tax laws to provide an incentive to American industry to modernize plants.

"We need a change that will provide an incentive to American industry to modernize their facilities. The way it is now, they can't afford to spend that kind of money without a write-off."

He said Japanese have far better equipment than American workers, and that modernization of American industrial facilities would permit U.S. workers to produce more with better equipment, make more money and generally stop production throughout this country.

Seith's Sunday debate with Percy at Southern Illinois University in Carbondale was the third in a series of four. The last debate of the series is to be held Oct. 17 at Oakbrook, Ill.

An armed man entered Inman's home in Venice and told Inman to "get your wife and children. You're all going with me."

In that instance, Inman walked into his living room and a man was standing near the front door.

The man took a gun from his pocket and told him to get his "wife and kids."

Inman's wife was getting the children ready for bed.

Inman ran out the front door and to a neighbor's home to call police.

The intruder left, but Mrs. Inman was told by the man that he would be back, "And when I do I'm going to kill your husband."

The man left in a gold-colored van bearing Missouri license plates.

The man wore a white hat.

Cash stolen in tavern burglary

A burglar who broke into Pete and Mary's Tavern, 2609 Lincoln Ave., escaped with $400 to $500 while a witness was at a neighbor's home calling police at 6:22 a.m. Saturday.

Officers reported that David Sorensen, bar manager at the tavern, told them he was asleep in his car in front of the tavern when he heard a burglar alarm sounding.

He ran to the front window and saw a man behind the bar. He said he ran to a neighbor to call police, but the man was gone when he returned. Entry was gained by removing an air conditioning unit.

Later, police picked up a 14-year-old boy in the area and questioned him. He was released.

THEFT FROM TRUCK

A .22 caliber pistol, a radio speaker and two auto jacks, all valued at $75, were taken from the truck of Willie Townzen, 1739 Delmar Ave., while it was parked at his home Friday night.

Park fence gone

About 90 feet of chain-link fencing was stolen from the Granite City Park District ball diamond at Roosevelt Avenue and Rock Road in West Granite City at 2:55 p.m. Thursday.

A total of 190 feet of the eight-foot fencing was removed from its posts and the fence was left in a roll on the ball field. There were marks in the dirt where the fence had been cut.

Part of a picket fence was taken down to make the opening through which the chain-link fencing was dragged.

The stolen fence was valued at between $300 and $400.

Two face weapons charges

Two granite City men were arrested at 6:50 p.m. Saturday in an incident in which police alleged they found a full box of shotgun shells in their car, recovered a shotgun that police believe was thrown from the car, and found a substance they believed to be cannabis and a quantity of different type pills on one of the men.

Officers reported they were called to East 23rd and Charles Street by a man who said a man in a car had pointed a gun at him.

While talking with the two men, another car drove up and the driver told police that in approaching the car the police had stopped he saw one of the occupants reach out and throw an object along the roadway.

He said he stopped his car and recovered the object, a double-barrel, 20-gauge shotgun containing two loads. He turned the gun over to the officers.

The officers arrested Ricky E. Pulley, 18, of 2015 Washington Ave., and Marvin V. Miller, 27, of the same address.

The officers reported they searched the men and found a substance believed to be cannabis on Miller, along with a box containing 11 yellow pills, one white pill and four white pills in plastic wrappings.

The substance and the pills are to be given laboratory tests for content.

Pulley was charged with failure to possess a firearm identification card and with unlawful use of a weapon.

Miller was charged with unlawful use of a weapon and possession of cannabis.

Both men were released on $1000 bond.

Four parked cars that were hit belonged to: Rose Smith, 1015 Logan St., Venice; William Bartly Jr., St. Louis; Jessie White, 902 Third St., Venice; and Foster Harrison, 819 Jefferson St., Madison, according to police.

Damage also was reported to a house at 701-703 Jefferson St., Madison, and a brick wall at 819 Jefferson St., Madison.

Human service graduates finding jobs in their field

By MARY BRASE

The chance of finding a job "in the same field" after graduation discourages some students from earning a college degree. But for a number of recent graduates of SIUE, the odds are just the opposite.

Debbie Bosa is a psychology teacher beginning her first classes at Belleville Area College. With the new job, she will have more time to advise political candidates or make television commercials. Last week, she completed the last of the federal paperwork and the computer system for the Manpower Training Program in Madison County.

Dan Gallant is an investigator for the St. Clair County courts. The information he must gather with a smile from former employers, families and friends helps judges decide whether to grant probation to offenders.

Jan Sato is a dispatcher for the Illinois State Police at Maryville. Her voice and the backup information she provides over the radio are often the only link protecting the trooper on the road. She is waiting her turn at "on-the-road duty" as an officer for a suburban St. Louis police force.

All three people, working in widely diversified occupations for business and government, have one thing in common. They are all graduates of the Human Services Program, and they are all working in their field of specialization.

Human services is an interdisciplinary program specifically designed to train graduates in the "helping professions," according to SIUE Associate Professor Tom Hughes. And the demand is great.

In a current follow-up of human services graduates by the Delinquency Study and Youth Development Center at

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD

Tues. Sept. 5, 1978 Page 4

SIUE, 87 percent answering the survey said they found full-time jobs in their field. Hughes said the figure is extremely high for a non-technical occupation.

Human services graduates do everything from guarding the president as a Secret Service agent to supervising emotionally disturbed teenage girls at a children's home. They manage personnel for the U.S. Air Force, promote products for a dairy, counsel alcohol and drug addicts for the county, and plan programs for the Girl Scouts.

They enjoy every minute of it, according to the answers on the survey: wherever they work they see a need and try to fill it. Although many women continue to enter the social services and men enter the criminal justice field, their training makes them viable in many fields. In undergraduate classes at SIUE, they learn from lawyers, political scientists, special education teachers, psychologists and each other.

Rick Yalc, owner of a detective agency employing 70 people in Belleville, said he wanted to work in law enforcement after he graduated in human services in 1972. But with six years' investigative experience, he did not want to start over as a patrolman.

So a year and a master's degree later, "I found this agency for sale," Yalc hired a secretary and has been hiring ever since.

He provides security guards and investigation for insurance companies, hospitals, businesses and individual families.

The thirteenth SIUE graduate with the human services degree, he said he learned to communicate with people, "one of the most valuable lessons anyone can learn."

"I remember one class in particular," he said. "The teacher gave us sheets of paper and tape and asked us to build a tower as high as we could. But, we couldn't talk."

When the class period was over, "our tower was third highest of the three groups," he remembered. "I guess that is the best way of putting it, but that day I learned how ineffective we are if we can't get the message across."

Yalc said he never again assumed that "others know just because you know." While the psychology teacher, the court investigator, the dispatcher and the private detective all report finding work they enjoy in the "helping services," one graduate is not as happy with his situation. The cashier of a fast-food restaurant answered the job description line of his questionnaire with a single word — "boring." His wish, added to the end of his answer, will never apply to the 287 other graduates of the human services program in its eighth year at SIUE, authorities say. The cashier wished his job to be "hopefully, only temporary."

Open house at firing range

The Granite City Police Department's new firing range on the GC Army Installation grounds will be open to public inspection at an open house from 1 to 5 p.m. Thursday.

The program will include a firing demonstration of the police combat course by the Granite City police pistol team which will compete in the national pistol matches in Jackson, Miss., in October, beginning at 2 p.m.

Construction of the firing range adjacent to the city's sewage treatment plant was completed last spring at a cost of $36,000.

GC school budget hearing

A public hearing on the 1978-79 budget of Granite City School District 9 will be held at 7:30 p.m. today preceding the School Board's regular meeting in the administration offices, 20th and Adams streets.

School district finance officials have projected a budget total of $24,169,205, but some revision from the tentative budget is expected tonight because of new teachers pay schedules. The tentative budget, $653,321 higher than that adopted last year, was accepted by the board Aug. 1.

The board will act on the new budget immediately following the public hearing. Tentative new tax levies of $8.842.173 are included in the budget. This compares with $9,223,344 authorized and $8,816,915 extended for 1977-78. The tentative 1978-79 budget to be considered at the public hearing tonight includes $20,281,287 in the educational fund, up $646,643; $1,265,378 in the building fund, down $43,272; $1,082,000 for bonds and interest, down $10,260; $393,540 for transportation, up $84,900; and $610,000 for municipal retirement, down $35,500.

Union agent to discuss right to work law

Levi Sanford, business agent of the St. Louis Teamsters Local 688, will be the speaker at a meeting of the Granite City Democratic Club Wednesday, Sept. 13 at 7:30 p.m.

Sanford will speak on the proposed National Right to Work laws versus organized labor. He will answer questions from the floor.

The meeting will be held in the Knights of Columbus Home, 21st Street and Edison Avenue. The public is invited.

GC trash pickups are one day late

Trash pickups in Granite City will be one day late this week because of Monday's Labor Day holiday.

No work force was off the job Monday so that yesterday's pickups will be made today, with the rest of that week's schedule running one day late. Special crews will work on Saturday to make Friday's pickups, returning the schedule to normal for next week.

Joyful couples united in area weddings

Bernadeen Yurkovich, Robert Pritchard marry

Father Edward Groesch heard Miss Bernadeen Renee Yurkovich and Robert J. Pritchard exchange their marriage vows in a 1 o'clock afternoon ceremony Aug. 5 at St. Margaret Mary Catholic Church.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Yurkovich Sr., 2928 Faith Ave.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Pritchard are the parents of the bridegroom. They live at 3004 Wayne Ave.

A program of wedding music was played by Mark Cox, who also sang: "My Sweet Lady," "Always and Forever," "If," "Colour My World," "You Light Up My Life," and "A Time For Us."

Summer blossoms in yellow and white and greenery with burning tapers and candles and large bows marking the pews graced the sanctuary for the double ring service.

The candles in the church were lighted by the servers, David Yurkovich, the bride's brother, and her cousin, Steven Yurkovich.

The maid of honor was Miss Laura Mendez.

Bridesmaids were Miss Danna DePew, Mrs. Terri Rill, Miss Joan Pritchard, the groom's sister, Mrs. Karen Angle, the bride's cousin, Miss Cynthia Zelenka and Mrs. Melissa Hattersley. Darlene Yurkovich, the bride's sister, served as junior bridesmaid.

Roger Mueller was best man to Mr. Pritchard.

Groomsmen were John Pritchard, the groom's brother, Robert M. Rill, John Yurkovich Jr., the bride's brother, Robert Nobus, Mark Hadley and Arthur Hattersley.

Terry Pritchard, also a brother of the groom, was junior groomsman.

The bride wore a gown of white organza fashioned in a line style with satin ribbon and seed pearls accenting the bodice. The Queen Anne neckline was edged with Brussels and Chantilly lace and the fitted sleeves of Chantilly tapered at the wrists into a Brussels lace ruffle, etched with seed pearls.

Delicate motifs of Chantilly were sprinkled on front and back panels of the bouffant skirt. A deep flounce of Brussels lace swept backward to form a chapel train, bordered with the lace.

Her waist-length veil of bridal illusion, re-embroidered with lace medallions and edged in Chantilly, was secured to a Juliet cap of lace and seed pearls.

She carried a cascade of white silk carnations, yellow roses and pale blue baby breath.

All of the attendants were dressed alike in A-line gowns of maize chiffon, trimmed in white Venise lace.

The Empire bodices had scoop necklines and the top of their full skirts was drawn back, creating a bustle effect. A deep flounce trimmed in Venise lace encircled the hemline.

Each wore a circlet of yellow daisies in her hair and carried a nosegay of blue silk carnations, yellow daisies and baby breath, trailing white satin streamers.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Yurkovich chose a long polyester gown in French blue, worn with a chiffon float, edged with Chantilly lace in a matching shade.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Pritchard, appeared in a full length frock of apricot polyester, made with a V-neckline. Venise lace trimmed the waist and edged the matching jacket.

Both mothers had corsages of silk Elegance carnations and roses, tipped in shades of to harmonize with their gowns.

Seating the guests were a guest enjoyed an Italian Dinner. After dinner, Mrs. Evelyn Todd, in behalf of the chapter, presented a gift to Mrs. Alma

A reception was given at the St. Mary's Parish Center in Madison, where blue and yellow streamers and bells decorated the hall and tables.

Guests were entertained by the Slavic Serenaders and a buffet supper was served. Dancing to the music of the Slavic Serenaders continued until 1 a.m.

Miss Sherry Harshany, a niece of the groom, attended the guest book.

NEWLYWEDS. Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Pritchard, who were married at St. Margaret Mary Catholic Church. The bride is the former Bernadeen Renee Yurkovich, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Yurkovich Sr., 2928 Faith Ave.

Dinner for Eta Chapter

Misses Dolores Sheridan and Eunice Hatcher and Mesdames Georgiana Vanbuschick and Shirley Morgan were hostesses at the August dinner party of the Eta Chapter, Phi Tau Omega sorority, held at Lombardi's Restaurant in St. Louis.

Seventeen members and a guest enjoyed an Italian Dinner. After dinner, Mrs. Evelyn Todd, in behalf of the chapter, presented a gift to Mrs. Alma

Among those present were friends and relatives from Litchfield, Benid, Mount Olive, Gillespie, Chicago, Peoria, Milwaukee, Wis., Frankfort, Ind., and Freehold, N. J.

After a wedding trip to Pensacola, Fla., the couple is residing in Granite City.

The former Miss Yurkovich is a 1974 graduate of Granite City High School South.

Her husband, a South High graduate in 1973, is a member of Carpenters Local 633.

Paschedag. Her marriage to Jess Fletcher will take place in September.

Mrs. Gladys Waggoner was given the prize for the evening. Other members attending included Misses Mary Hassler, Kathryn Weddell, Betty Krug and Hilda Schroeder and Mesdames Mary Lou Richeson, Lois Hodge, Dorothy Brewster, Millie Greshouse and Lorraine Butler. Mrs. Debbie Vanbuschick was a guest.

ILL. TERMINAL TRAFFIC ADMINISTRATOR RETIRES
William A. Nelson Jr., retired Friday, culminating a railroad career that spanned 38 years with the Illinois Terminal.

He served the railroad in various capacities in his early career and in 1959, was elected vice president-traffic.

He and his wife, Metel, reside at 10156 Carolyn Drive, St. Louis and in the near future will be moving to Terre Du Lac at Bonne Terre, Mo.

Pamela Schaefer wed at Breckenridge Hotel

Arrangements of white flowers and greenery decorated the spacious Hawthorne Room at the Breckenridge Pavilion Hotel, St. Louis, for the wedding Sunday of Miss Pamela Schaefer of Arlington Heights, Ill., and Steven Samson of Skokie, Ill.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Schaefer, 63 Karen Drive, Granite City.

The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Julius Samson of Skokie, Ill.

Rabbi Joseph Rosenbloom of Temple Emanuel, Creve Coeur, Mo., officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride chose a gown of white voile, the bodice created with a deep yoke and high neckline of peau d'ange lace. The long, full sleeves were trimmed with bands of peau d'ange and the natural waistline was defined with a wide insert of the same lace.

The A-line skirt and attached train had a deep flounce encircling the hemline, bordered with appliqued lace.

The bridal veil of imported illusion cascaded from a small cap of Venise point lace flowers and the veil was edged with the same delicate lace design.

Her bouquet was a free-style cascade of candlelight roses, stephanotis and variegated ivy. Mrs. Paul DeGonia was matron of honor for her sister.

The bridesmaids were Miss Susan Joynt, a cousin, Mrs. Clark Johnson and Mrs. David Hoffman.

The bridegroom chose his brother, Richard Samson, as best man.

Groomsmen were Howard Samson, also a brother, Ted F. Schaefer, brother of the bride, and Lawrence Wechter. Brian and Scott DeGonia, nephews of the bride, served as ushers.

The honor attendant and maid were gowned in long dresses of apricot crinkle voile, the square neckline and bodices trimmed with ivory lace.

The skirts fell softly from Empire waists to a deep flounce at the hemline, bordered in ivory lace, and the long sleeves formed a bell at the wrists.

They wore ivory lace bows with baby breath in their hair and had quaint nosegays of MRS. STEVEN SAMSON the former Pamela Schaefer of Arlington Heights, Ill. She was married Sunday in the Hawthorne Room at Breckenridge Pavilion Hotel, St. Louis. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Schaefer, 63 Karen Drive.

Secretaries aid TV 9

Eight members of the Tri-Cities Chapter of the National Secretaries' Association (International) spent an afternoon last week answering telephones at KETC Channel 9 television. Every three months, the station asks the public for pledges for one-year memberships in Channel 9.

Answering the many callers, the National Secretaries accumulated 120 new memberships. Some of these were renewal memberships.

Mrs. Paul DeGonia and sons, Brian and Scott, from Pasadena, Md.

An approximate figure of $3,500 was the total amount obtained for the 9½ hours the NSA women spent there.

Along with members of NSA, five friends also attended the phones. KETC provided lunch for those who participated in the project, and a mini-tour of the studio was enjoyed.

The next meeting of the secretaries will be held at Charlie's Restaurant on Thursday, Sept. 7 at 6:30 p.m.

MR. MRS. RAY JONES JR. Their wedding took place at St. Margaret Mary Catholic Church. The bride is the former Robin L. Shelton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Shelton, 2437 Wilson Ave.

Robin Shelton becomes Mrs. Ray E. Jones Jr.

Standard candleabra entwined with greenery were staked with bows and streamers encircled the waist.

They held bouquets of fresh daisies and Elegance carnations in an array of colors with matching daisies in their hair.

The flower girl chose an all-white lace dress with a high neckline and puff sleeves. White satin bows and streamers detailed the waistline.

Attending the guest book was Jama Meade.

A rehearsal dinner party was hosted by the bridegroom's parents at Ravanelli Restaurant.

The reception was held at the American Legion Hall, with dancing and dinner enjoyed.

The former Miss Shelton graduated in 1977 from Granite City High School South. She is employed at Ervay's Restaurant on Pontoon Road.

Her husband, also a 1977 South High graduate, works at American Steel Foundries.

They are planning to live on McCambridge Avenue in Madison.

The sheer bishop sleeves were detailed with a row of Chantilly appliques and gathered into deep cuffs of the same lace.

Tiers of scalloped Chantilly and organza created the sides and back panels of the skirt that cascaded into full sweep train. A border of lace scalloped encircled the skirt hem and train.

A Camelot headpiece of lace and pearls secured her waltz-length veil of illusion and Chantilly, and she carried a bouquet of multi-colored daisies and baby breath with deep yellow roses at the center and lace streamers.

Miss Jackie Shelton, the bride's sister, was maid of honor.

The bridesmaids were Roberta Judd, Debbie Davis and Jennifer McLean. Kim Smith was the junior bridesmaid.

The flower girl was Lynette Underwood and the groom's nephew, Jerry Owens Jr., was the ringbearer.

Jerry Owens, the groom's brother, served as best man.

Serving as groomsmen were Jim Stewart, Dennis Sherwell and Tom Colon, the bride's cousin. Bryan Dillon was junior groomsmen.

Bob Knezevich and Phil Kosydar were among the ushers.

The honor maid was gowning in yellow organza with the bridesmaids in pastel shades of blue, pink, green and orchid.

Their dresses were made in identical style, with square necklines and short puff sleeves. Venice lace trimmed the bodices and edged a flounce at the hemline. Matching rib-

Bohnenstiehs to enjoy food and family charts

The annual Bohnenstiehl family reunion is scheduled for Sunday, Sept. 10, at 12:30 p.m. at the VFW Hall, Collinsville.

Descendants of Jacob and Margaretha Voise Bohnenstiehl, who left Neuhofen, Rheinbalden, Germany, on Aug. 4, 1842, to settle in the St. Clair-Madison counties area, have met almost every year since the first known reunion was held at Ebel's Park in Troy, Ill., in August 1936.

That reunion, according to one of the elder Bohnenstiehs, was organized by John T. and Gusta Helmh Bohnenstiehl. At the initial reunion, Mrs. Bohnenstiehl started a written record of the known ancestry of the family, to be continued at each annual meeting.

This information has provided the basis for a family history being compiled by Volle and Helen Bohnenstiehl of Norman, Okla.

The Bohnenstiehs are in the process of analyzing and sorting information received in response to their mailing to over 120 Bohnenstiehl-related families, attempting to get family charts completed by each family in order to insure getting each descendant placed in the proper generation and within the correct branch of the family.

The have also received some information from the ancestral village of Neuhofen, Germany, which the Bohnenstiehs in the village. This will be presented in the publication when sufficient information is compiled from the family members.

Any family which has a Bohnenstiehl in its background is welcome to attend the reunion, whether or not they have received a written invitation, it was noted. All the Bohnenstiehs in this area are descended from Jacob and all the families are being urged to attend and complete a family chart.

The goal is to print a record of every descendant from Jacob and Margaretha down to the last baby born into the family, complete with locations and dates of births, marriages and deaths.

"Dates are vital for placing descendants in the proper generation to prevent confusion, since many of the given names are used in every generation in every family," a spokesman said.

Volle Bohnenstiehl Sr., 2608 Vandalla St., Collinsville, will represent the junior Bohnenstiehs at the reunion to gather any completed family charts and addresses of known descendants, or they may be sent directly to: Volle Bohnenstiehl, 1618 Brookhaven Blvd., Norman, Okla. 73069.

Information has been obtained on all six of the original children of Jacob and Margaretha. But in the third generation, there are several areas where there are no known descendants or no addresses for descendants, and these are problem areas for the biographers.

Anyone with information on the following is being urged to write to the Bohnenstiehs or bring the information to the reunion.

Mary Bohnenstiehl Goetz (circa 1860); Elizabeth Bohnenstiehl Schildecht (ca 1861); Mary Bohnenstiehl Froehrich (ca 1867); John Bohnenstiehl (ca 1858-59); Andrew Bohnenstiehl (ca 1865); William Bohnenstiehl (ca 1863); and Margaretha Bohnenstiehl Nece (ca 1868).

A special area of concern for the family biographers is for descendants of Philip Bohnenstiehl (1838-1910); his wife was the former Elizabeth McWay.

They had three children, according to his Civil War record, which the Bohnenstiehs have obtained - Wickliffe (Feb. 14, 1868); Mary (June 23, 1872) and Ruth (July 20, 1886).

"There are no known descendants, and it seems a loss not to have someone with whom to share his Civil War records," the spokesman said.

"In addition to each Bohnenstiehl family bringing the usual pot luck food for the reunion dinner, complete with utensils and sweetened condensed juice, the biographers hope sincerely that each family will attend with a full set of ancestors, complete with dates, etc."

Seek youth who eluded police

Granite City police are searching for a youth who escaped from them twice early Friday after they stopped his car at Niedringhaus and Edison avenues.

Police noted a car with three people in it at 12:35 a.m. Friday and an officer recognized the driver as a youth being sought on an outstanding warrant.

As the car stopped, a passenger opened the door and put something on the ground. A "long," or water pipe used for smoking marijuana, allegedly was found outside of the car.

When the driver was informed there was a warrant or file for his arrest, he allegedly turned and ran. He was chased on foot two blocks to the 2200 block of Edison Avenue where he eluded police.

Officers then returned to the youth's car and found the two passengers had left the area, taking the bong with them. Attempts to locate them were unsuccessful.

Police searched the car and alleged finding 12 marijuana cigarettes beside the driver's seat. Complaints were prepared charging the driver with possession of marijuana and escape.

A short time later, the driver was seen on foot at 22nd Street and the railroad tracks and was chased, but managed to elude officers a second time, police related.

His car was towed and the youth is being sought.

MITCHELL MAN CHARGED

John Ashburn, 25, of 206 Warsaw Drive, Mitchell, was charged with driving while intoxicated at 12:47 a.m. Monday after his car crashed into a house at 1414 Madison Avenue, according to police. Ashburn was released on $200 cash bond.

Nature's goodness goes into puddings

By MARJORIE RICE
Creamy pudding rich with eggs, milk, rice and fruit is a homey, healthful dessert that's been a family favorite for years.

MERINGUE-TOPPED PINEAPPLE RICE PUDDING

3 cups cooked rice
4 cups milk
½ cup sugar
¼ tsp. salt
4 eggs, separated
¼ tsp. vanilla extract
1 can (13½ oz.) pineapple tidbits, drained
¼ tsp. cream of tartar
Red currant jelly
Combine rice, 3 cups milk, ¼ cup sugar, and salt. Cook over medium heat until thick and creamy, about 30 minutes, stirring frequently. Beat egg yolks; add remaining milk and 1 teaspoon vanilla. Stir into rice mixture. Cook about two minutes. Remove from heat; stir in pineapple. Pour into a buttered shallow 2-quart baking dish.

Beat egg whites until foamy; gradually add ¼ cup sugar, cream of tartar, and remaining vanilla. Beat until stiff but not dry. Swirl lightly on pudding.
Bake at 400 degrees for about five minutes. Top with dollops of red currant jelly. Serve warm or cold. Makes eight servings.

ORANGE CREAM

2 cans (11 oz. each) mandarin orange segments (drain; reserve syrup)
¼ cup orange juice
1 tsp. grated orange peel
3 cups cooked rice
¼ tsp. salt
¼ cup sugar
3 tbsps. orange liqueur
1 tsp. vanilla extract
1 cup heavy cream, whipped or 1 envelope (1½ oz.) whipped topping mix, prepared
Combine syrup from orange segments, orange juice, and enough water to make 2 cups. Add orange peel, rice, salt, and sugar.
Cook over medium heat until rice is thick and creamy, about 30 minutes, stirring occasionally. Remove from heat; stir in orange liqueur and vanilla. Chill until mixture begins to set.

Stir in 1 cup whipped cream and half of the orange segments. Spoon into serving dishes; top with remaining whipped cream and orange segments. Makes 10 servings.

SWEDISH RICE PUDDING

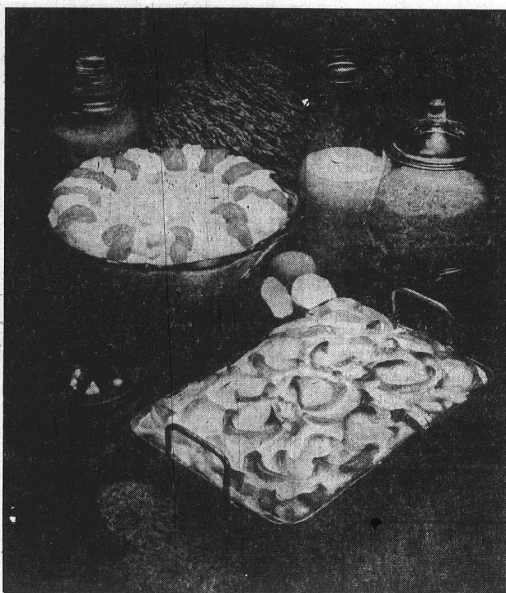

1 cup milk
2 cups half-and-half
6 eggs
½ cup sugar
¼ tsp. cinnamon
1½ tbsps. vanilla extract
3 cups cooked rice
¼ cup seedless raisins
2 tbsps. butter
Scald milk and half-and-half. Beat eggs slightly; add remaining ingredients except butter. Stir in heated cream. Pour into a buttered shallow 2-quart baking dish. Dot with butter. Set dish in a baking pan and add 1-inch hot water to pan. Bake 325 degrees for about 45 minutes, stirring every 15 minutes from bottom so rice will be creamier.
Serve hot or cold. Makes eight servings.

RICE AND APPLE PUDDING

3 medium tart apples
Juice of one lemon
3 cups milk
1 tsp. butter
One-third cup sugar
1 cup uncooked rice
1 tsp. salt
2 tbsps. brandy

TOPPING

1 cup soft bread crumbs
2 tbsps. sugar
1 tsp. cinnamon
3 tbsps. melted butter
Peel, core, and slice apples in ¼-inch wedges. Sprinkle with lemon juice; cover to keep from discoloring. Set aside.
Bring milk, butter, sugar, rice, and salt to a boil. Reduce heat, cover, and simmer about 30 minutes until rice is soft and creamy, stirring frequently.
Add brandy. Spoon rice into a buttered shallow round 2-quart baking dish. Arrange apple slices on top in an overlapping spiral. Blend topping ingredients. Sprinkle over apples. Bake at 350 degrees for 15 to 20 minutes. Serve hot or cold. Makes six to eight servings.

RICE DELIGHTS. Rice combines with fruit in these desserts — meringue-topped pineapple rice pudding and orange cream.

Softball players honored at picnic

An appreciation picnic was held last week in Wilson Park for members of the Irwin Chapel for Furnerals softball team and their families.

The team won second place this year in the Men's 1-A Division of the Granite City Park District League.

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD

Tues., Sept. 5, 1978 Page 7

JOANNE CASH YATES, sister of Country Star Johnny Cash, center, and members of her family will present a concert of country and gospel music at the Community Heights Assembly of God Church, Faith and Buxton avenues, Sunday at 7 p.m. At left is her husband, Harry Yates and at right, her daughter, Rhonda.

Yates family to present concert

The Yates Family, which includes Joanne Cash Yates, sister of Country Star Johnny Cash, will present a program of country and gospel music at the Community Heights Assembly of God Church, Faith and Buxton avenues, at 7 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 10.

Joanne Cash Yates has published her life story, My Fears are Gone. In the book, as in the concert, she explains her addiction to drugs, and her inward fear that no one cared. It was Johnny who first pulled her out of her drug habit — an experience he shared with his sister, she said.

Now in full-time Christian work, Joanne and the family members enjoy sharing what they've found in the born again experience. Blending testimony with the best of country and gospel music, the Yates are well worth seeing in concert, Rev. Jeffrey Smith, pastor said in announcing plans for the concert.

Both Joanne and her husband, Harry, got their start singing gospel with a church choir in a show presented at the Grand Ole Opry stage in Nashville, Tenn. Harry, who has a doctorate in Religious Education, is now President of Christian Fellowship Ministry International.

Rounding out the group is Joanne's daughter, Rhonda, who is pianist for the family. Having appeared on numerous national and local TV and radio programs, including the PTL Club in Charlotte, N.C., the Yates Family have developed a concert ministry that is both encouraging and professional, Rev. Smith concluded.

Shelley White marks birthday

Shelley White was honored on her ninth birthday at a party given by her sisters, Maria and Lori White, last week.

They are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Jim White, and the party was held at the family home, 4908 Mueller Drive.

Guests from the Peanuts cartoon strip, including Snoopy, formed the decorations at the event.

Games were played and prizes were awarded. Cake and other party fare were served by the youthful hostesses.

Among the guests were Lisa Butler, Amy O'Shea, Kathy Angle, Dana Jewell, Carrie Dickey, Maria Willard and those named.

DuBourg sweeps past Warriors, 5-3, but South downs Springfield Southeast

You could have knocked DuBourg soccer coach Tom Chambers over with a feather Saturday night.

Why, he just couldn't believe his down-and-out soccer team could even stay close to the Granite South Warriors, and Chambers said a high-scoring affair would mean doom, for sure.

"I was very surprised this was a high-scoring game," Chambers said after DuBourg, defending Missouri co-champions, eased by South 5-3.

Heck, the way Chambers talked before Saturday's game, he should have been surprised his squad showed up. After all, Chambers said his team "was nothing like last year's. We don't have anybody back."

And then, Chambers lost two starting midfielders to injury before the game even started. Neil Haberberger and 6-5 Pat MacEntee watched the game from the sidelines.

"There isn't much difference between this DuBourg team and last year's," South coach Gene Baker said Saturday night.

Dan Long put South back on top when he banged in a Fred Schuler rebound at 34:28. The Warriors had dominated play after Winkler's goal and appeared ready to take command.

But the flow mysteriously shifted and Bertarelli, who was brilliant throughout the game, stuffed in Mike Bancato's rebound with less than a minute to play, then Rick Jenkinson scored on a long kick from the right on the net.

Paz seemed to have trouble clearing the ball from in front on Bertarelli's goal.

The half ended with DuBourg ahead, 3-2, and having started the Warriors, 10-8. Fernandez had some excellent rushes on goal in the half, but he saved his best for the last half.

Joe Kuda added to the DuBourg lead when he scored 11 minutes into the half on a line drive from about 25 yards out. Paz had no chance on the shot.

Then Fernandez took over. The little midfielder took a pass from Schuler about 20 yards out, dribbled past a defender, then lifted a shot into the left-hand corner of the goal.

"He's just a super ballplayer," Chambers said.

"He ballhandles, he's quick, just super."

"We got a great game from David and we expect that," Baker said.

With all of the praise, you might expect Fernandez to be feeling the pressure.

"No, I don't feel any pressure now," he said. "Last year, being a freshman starting on an all-senior team, I felt pressure," he said.

Maybe, maybe not, Chambers' strong and quick, "Their forwards are big, strong and quick," Chambers said. "And (David) Fernandez is just a super ballplayer. He may be the best midfielder in the area."

Fernandez, a sophomore, put on a dazzling display of ballhandling and boomed in a goal, but none of the Warriors could stop the DuBourg offense.

"We had a little trouble clearing the ball from the front of our net," Baker said.

Chambers said he felt South goalie Alex Paz "was acrobatic. He made some great saves. But he was erratic, too. I felt he gave us some plays."

The Warriors, who dumped Springfield Southeast 5-0 on Friday, jumped out to a quick lead when Randy DeKousse scored from a John Prazma assist with only 3:45 elapsed.

DuBourg tied the game at 19:45 on a disputed play when Greg Winkler scored on a Frank Bertarelli rebound. Bertarelli had taken a long break-away pass, which Baker thought was offside, to start the play.

"I definitely thought it was offside, but it didn't decide the game," the South coach said.

The Warriors seemed to control midfield after Fernandez's goal and the midfielder made another sortie on with about 11 minutes gone. He took the ball at midfield, beautifully worked around two defenders, then lifted a shot that was just wide of the goal.

But Kuda put the game out of reach with 12:52 left when he picked the ball out of a scramble in front of the net and boomed it past Paz. Paz had made two saves during the flurry, but could not control the rebound.

"We take things in stride," Baker said after the loss. "This was a good game in that we learned what our strengths and weaknesses were."

In the strength category, Baker said fullbacks Phil Beljars and Prazma played excellent games.

"Our offense played well, and that is encouraging, because we are going to have an excellent backfield before the season is over," Baker said.

The Warriors completely out-manned Springfield Southeast Friday night. South outshot Springfield 38-4 in what Baker said was a very physical game.

Dan DeKousse, David Mendoza, Schuler, Long and Prazma all scored for South. DeKousse one.

South hosts Assumption at 3:30 Wednesday afternoon.

Southern Illinois schools get unfair treatment in state IHSA soccer tournament

Granite City North soccer coach Bob Kehoe was discussing yesterday his team's upcoming game against New Trier West, when the subject got around to last year's state tournament.

The question was posed "Which New Trier was it that went to state last year? East or West? It was East, but the real question should have been which 'Granite City team DIDN'T go to state last year, and why not?"

It is a galling factor of life that, because of Northern Illinois' overwhelming population advantage, most state tournament set-ups allow many more Northern teams to reach the final eight.

For example, only three teams south of Aurora can make it to the Elite Eight in the large school basketball tournament, and only one of those can come from south of Springfield.

That meant that last year, for example, even though both Collinsville and East St. Louis were ranked in the top eight in the state all year, only Collinsville could make the final eight.

Most basketball fans can live with that, however, because there are very few southern schools that can compete on a state level, anyway. This area usually produces, at the most, two teams that are legitimate state title contenders.

But then there is the question of the state soccer tournament. "I always go up to the tournaments every year," Kehoe said.

Collinsville, 10-0.

"We played them (Schurz) down here and beat them by five or six goals," Kehoe said. South hammered the Chicago Public League Team 6-1 for the state title.

What's the moral of the story? Southern Illinois produced three teams of almost equal caliber (and Alton was just a notch below) that could have walked off with the state title. How many of those teams even got to the sectionals, let alone the final eight?

One.

Instead, pretenders like Schurz made it to the final eight, and even got to the final game, before the hoax was won. Granted, South did have two tough games with Northern teams in the final eight.

But Southern Illinois soccer is still the best in the state right now. This area is not getting fair representation in the finals. Is there any prospect for change?

Then, of course, Collinsville enters the picture. The Kahoks also played South to a one-goal game in the sub-sectionals. Collinsville also played Chicago Schurz earlier in the year. The team the Warriors met for the state title. Final score? Collinsville, 10-0.

"We played them (Schurz) down here and beat them by five or six goals," Kehoe said. South hammered the Chicago Public League Team 6-1 for the state title.

"They tell me when we get a few more schools playing statewide, that Southern Illinois may be given an extra berth in the finals," Kehoe said.

"There currently about 120 schools playing statewide. If we get up to about 150, then the South may get two schools in the finals."

When that will come, nobody is sure. One thing is for sure, however. It is inevitable that, with time, the Northern schools will come to dominate soccer, like every other sport.

They have larger populations to draw from (many suburban high schools have enrollments of 6,000 spread over two or three campuses, such as Evanston High School), there is more money to devote to youth leagues, facilities and attracting coaching talent, and there are simply more schools.

It is time for the Illinois High School Association to alter their tournament structure to allow the best schools to reach the finals.

Wouldn't it be a shame if Southern Illinois schools were deprived of the right to exhibit their talents until it is too late?

BOB KEHOE: Granite City North soccer coach, says he would like to see a change in the IHSA soccer tournament format to allow more than one Southern Illinois team in the finals.

Granite City North has easy time with Blue Devils, 4-0

Granite City North's soccer team takes on the tough New Trier West Cobwebs this afternoon, after the Steelers got off to a good start over the weekend.

North, who beat Quincy, 4-0, in Quincy Saturday night, met the Cobwebs at MacMurray College in Jacksonville at 2:30 this afternoon.

"I've seen their roster and they've got some good people back from last year's team," Kehoe said. "They'll be a good team, I'm sure."

Kehoe said he was "satisfied, overall, with our performance Saturday night. For a first game, we played well."

The Steelers broke out to a 3-0 first half lead, then played cat-and-mouse with the Blue Devils in the second stanza.

"They were a good team, although not as good as they have been in the past," Kehoe said of Quincy. "They had two players who I would be tickled to have on my team."

TONY PIERCE

Robertson finished out the scoring in the second half, then the Steelers played keep-away with the bedeviled Devils.

"We were to the point where we had enough goals to win," Kehoe said, "so we were working on our ball control and passing."

"I was pleased with the way we moved the ball," he added. "We got good movement off the ball and our passing was very good."

The Steelers outshot Quincy 24-5 and "our shooting was very good," Kehoe said. "Out of those 24 shots, 15 were dangerous balls."

"By that, I mean the goalie had to make a stop or they hit the woodwork or they were near the net. That says a lot for our accuracy."

Kehoe was also pleased with his team's defense. "They only got five shots and I'd say that was a pretty good defensive play," he said.

Goalie Tony Pierce received the shut-out and he made one outstanding save on the Devils' Rudd.

Rudd was just outside the goal area when he lifted a line drive towards the upper right-hand corner of the goal. Pierce leaped and fisted the ball away.

"I thought for sure there was no way Tony was going to stop that," Kehoe said.

The Steeler coach said he tries to work on different phases of the game when his team is in a commanding position.

"We like to try and control the ball like we did Saturday night," Kehoe said. "It's against competition and it allows us to work on our passing game."

"It's very important to work on that because if you're playing a team that you can't take it to, you can still just try and control the ball and hope you can sneak one in."

"We had a game like that last year when we played Hazelwood Central. They outshot us something like 30-6 but we snuck a goal in and we won 1-0."

Kehoe said he expects a physical game with New Trier today.

"They're a little more physical and they depend more on speed than finesse," he said. "But that's not to say they don't have any finesse, because they do."

South's Dave Taylor won the meet, finishing in 15:50. Dave Houston was third.

South harriers win Alton meet

Granite City South's cross country team won the Alton Top Ten meet Friday, while North finished third.

South won the meet with 304 points. Alton finished second with 257 and North third with 291.

South's Dave Taylor won the meet, finishing in 15:50. Dave Houston was third.

Other Warrior finishers were: Scott Ahlers, 11th, Curt Collins, 18th, Jeff Taylor, 19th, Bob Dubnick, 24th, Mike Gardner, 25th, Wally Panton, 31th, Tim Guisler, 32th, Joe DeRuntz, 40th.

In the junior varsity meet South's Ronald Brown placed second, Steve DuMont was fourth, and Chris Cottrell was eighth.

Goldschmidt, former Warrior star, adjusting well to Hoosier soccer

For a freshman in college who is just moving up to the big time, Mark Goldschmidt says everything is going just fine, thank you.

Most Granite City folks remember Goldschmidt as the high scoring star half-back for Granite South's two-time state champions.

But he's gone on to bigger things now, and all those stories about how hard freshman adjustment is just aren't true.

Well, not in Mark's case, at any rate. Because Goldschmidt has stopped right in at Indiana University, playing a substantial role for the nationally ranked Hoosiers as a yearling. Goldschmidt played "about 45 minutes" in Indiana's 2-1 opening game victory over a tough UCLA team Sunday, he said.

"I didn't start, but I hope to eventually," he said.

Goldschmidt doesn't deny that it's a long step, or kick, from being a high school star to the world of top collegiate soccer.

"Everything is full speed here," Goldschmidt said in a phone interview Sunday. "You have to have your mind in the game at all times."

But he doesn't seem to be having any insurmountable problems, either on the soccer field, or in the classroom.

"The upper-classmen really helped me out a lot," he said. "I'd say this is the easiest place for a freshman to come into."

"You just have to get into a routine, to learn to budget your time, and the older guys really helped me out."

Goldschmidt says his hardest adjustment on the soccer field has been learning to play a man-to-man defense.

"In high school, we played a zone type of marking," he said. "Here, we play a man-to-man. That means if you're on offense and your man gets the ball, you have to get back on him." To make up for his lack of experience, the Hoosier half-back says he falls back on his learned skills.

EASY ADJUSTMENT. Former Granite City South star Mark Goldschmidt, shown here in last year's state tournament, has adapted well to college soccer, he says. Goldschmidt played about 45 minutes for Indiana in the Hoosiers' 2-1 win over UCLA Sunday.

"I guess my biggest plus right now is the skills I've learned as I was growing up," he said.

"My ballhandling and dribbling skills."

Goldschmidt said Hoosier coach Jerry Yeagley has been a big help in making the adjustment to college soccer.

"He's a really nice guy and he talks to us (Goldschmidt and the two other Indiana freshmen) a lot," he said. "And he's very fair. In fact, he's been more than fair."

Goldschmidt likens Yeagley's coaching style to Granite South coach Gene Baker.

"Their styles are a lot alike," he said, "so I didn't have to move over to a completely different side (of coaching)."

"They both work a lot on dead ball play and both teach a competitive, hard play type of soccer," Goldschmidt said.

Yeagley guided the Hoosiers to the national finals two years ago. Last year Indiana lost to Southern Illinois University-Edwardsville in regional action. SIUE won in four overtimes.

Are the Hoosiers' national caliber this year?

"Definitely," Goldschmidt said.

"We looked really good today (against UCLA). UCLA is really tough, they've got a lot of foreign players. A lot of great individuals."

"But we played really well in the second half. The score was 1-1 at half, but we really took it to 'em in the second half."

Goldschmidt says he has set no time table as to when he will break into the predominantly senior Hoosier starting line-up.

"I really can't say when it'll be, or what it'll take (to get into the starting line-up)," he said.

"I'm just trying to improve day by day."

The former Warrior's brother, Don, is a starter at St. Louis University now, and Mark says he was seriously considering playing for the Billikens.

"I would have liked to play with Don. He is so far advanced as a soccer player and I would have liked to learn from him."

Goldschmidt also said UCLA was in the running for his services. "I really liked the climate there," he said.

But Yeagley and the spacious Bloomington campus won him over.

Title IX regulations cause confusion in local sports programs

By BRAD BUGGER
Title IX, a federal regulation handed down several years ago that states, simply, that school districts cannot discriminate on the basis of sex.

Its intent is clear. Its myriad of interpretations, of clauses and sub-clauses are clear as mud.

"There is a total problem of definition," says Granite City school district Athletic Director Joe Fedora. "It has too many loopholes, too many ambiguities. Compliance regulations change from day to day. What the case is today, may be different tomorrow."

All of which is not making it any easier for Granite City, Venice or Madison schools to comply with the regulation. But all three are trying.

"There is a problem of interpretation," said Robert Vickers, Venice school district superintendent. "But I've chosen not to get upset about it. We are doing everything possible within our limits to comply."

Marguerite Connoile, assistant to the superintendent and co-coordinator for Madison's Title IX compliance, said "We don't feel we have any problem here. We feel we're going in the right direction."

Fedora also believes that his district is "close to full compliance." However, he's not sure that the state office of education would agree.

"The state and the OCR (Office of Civil Rights) have, as their function, the responsibility to scrutinize all the programs to determine if they are complying with Title IX," Fedora said.

"I don't know how, or when, but they are so bogged down, I'm told, that it (an inspection) could be next week, or next year."

Connoile said Madison was inspected last December and, "We had no problem in that area (Title IX compliance)." Connoile said no specific mention of Madison's compliance efforts were included in the state's report.

Vickers said "I have seen the letter (notifying Venice there will be an inspection), but I have no idea when it will be."

"But I welcome an inspection, by the state, or whoever, because I feel we're doing everything we can."

"And if they should find some problem, we'd try and work it out."

Interpretation is not the only problem for school districts trying to meet Title IX standards, Fedora says.

"The state school code and Title IX are in accord, but the 14th Amendment is in contradiction to Title IX," he said. Fedora explained that Title IX allows separate, but comparable athletic programs for boys and girls. However, the 14th Amendment says that separate is not equal. Therefore, girls must be allowed to play on boys' teams and vice versa.

"That's true," Vickers said. "The IHSAA (Illinois High School Association, governing body for state prep sports) has said that girls cannot play on boys' teams, and that boys cannot play on girls' teams."

Fedora says he hopes some resolution of the conflict between Title IX and the 14th Amendment is worked out soon.

"But I have no idea when that will be," he said.

In any case, all three area school districts are attempting to comply with Title IX (not the 14th Amendment), and all three have hit some snags along the way.

The Granite City schools have made the most progress on the high school level. Fedora said eight sports for girls have been instituted, including basketball, tennis, field hockey, bowling, gymnastics and softball.

"We've been looking at new girls' sports for over two years now," Fedora said.

In addition to new sports, the school district has also made all gym classes coed.

According to Title IX, the only sports that can be segregated are football, basketball, wrestling, rugby, ice hockey and boxing, Fedora said.

There are no girls' teams that compete with other schools on the junior high or elementary school levels, Fedora said.

"We haven't broadened our program there because none of the other schools in the area have programs," he added.

Fedora said finances and lack of interest have prevented other districts from instituting elementary and junior high sports for girls.

"Title IX just says you have to comply, it doesn't provide you with any more money to do so," Fedora said.

All gym classes on the elementary and junior high levels are coed, Fedora said.

At Venice, the compliance problem is "a little easier" to solve, according to Vickers.

"We only have three boys' sports and that means we only have to add one more girls' sport just to make it even."

Venice currently offers only boys' cross country, basketball and baseball. Girls' sports include volleyball and softball.

In addition, all physical education courses are coed on the high school, junior high school and elementary school levels. No girls' sports are offered on the elementary or junior high level, while boys' basketball, and possibly soccer, will be offered.

Typical of the confusion over Title IX is the question of whether an equal number of sports must be offered to girls and boys.

Vickers said that he thought that's what Title IX called for, but Fedora said, "It only says comparable opportunities. It does not call for the same number of sports offered to both."

Basketball and volleyball were chosen to be Venice's girls' sports two years ago after a survey of the high school's girls showed that they were the two most popular sports, Vickers said.

"There's a possibility of instituting girls' track, too," he said. "We're trying to meet the girls' needs, but we are limited by our means."

Connoile said Madison has found its district to be limited by facility and time problems.

"We do not offer girls' sports on the junior high level because they are on spill shifts and we can only keep them there so long," she said.

Madison now offers girls' track and tennis on the high school level. Connoile said. It also offers intramural sports to both elementary and junior high students. Some gym classes are coed, she said.

A question that has bothered educators all over the country is whether or not Title IX mandates that equal amounts of money be spent on both girls' and boys' programs.

Fedora, Vickers and Connoile all felt that was not the case.

"Title IX calls for comparable programs, that's all," Fedora said. "That means girls must have the same quality of equipment and facilities, but not necessarily that we spend the same amount of money."

"In fact, we don't even have separate accounts," he said.

"Everything comes out of the one account."

So all three school districts continue their attempts to comply to Title IX. Whether they have succeeded, only their state inspectors will know for sure.

Mitchell fall festival will aid sports teams

The eyes of many Quad-City area athletes will be on this weekend's Mitchell Athletic Association festival. The 19th annual fall festival it benefits dozens of baseball, soccer, basketball and softball teams.

Festival hours are 6 p.m. to midnight this Friday and noon to midnight on Saturday and Sunday.

Mercer rallies in ninth to take title

It was a day for high drama Sunday, when Mercer of Granite City parted a few seas on the way to beating the Music Room Vans of East Alton, 2-1, for the Inter-City League baseball title.

Music Room pitcher Stan Hawkins stymied Mercer on one hit for eight innings Sunday. But an error by second baseman Don Broadway proved to be his undoing.

The Mercer miracle finish actually began with Music Room leading 1-0 in the top of the ninth. Music Room third baseman Lee Davis had walked to lead off the inning, then went to second when first baseman Mike Greene reached on an error.

Gary Collins then forced Greene at second, leaving runners at the corners with one out.

Catcher Steve Haug lifted a fly ball to medium infield, where Jim Greenwald tracked it down.

Davis headed for home on the play, and Greenwald fired a strike to catcher Ken Schaake, who put the tag on Davis. Remember Greenwald's name, for it will reappear in this Sunday afternoon soap opera.

Davis argued about the call at home plate, but it seemed to be a moot point, anyway. Through eight innings Hawkins had yielded only a third-inning single and a couple of foul balls.

Music Room had garnered only five hits off of three Granite City pitchers, as well. They scored in the seventh after catcher Steve Haug got a two-out double off of Jerry Logan, the three-strike pitcher. Haug came around on Rick Dowler's single.

But Davis' run homed large in the bottom of the ninth when the combination of the hot, muggy weather and Broadway's error finally caught up with Hawkins.

Rightfielder Eldon Warfield lead off with a sharp single to center. Ken Schaake moved him along with a perfect bunt. That set the stage for the big play of the inning. Centerfielder Jack Scarborough snapped a rocket right at Broadway, but the little second baseman lifted his glove a second too early and the ball sprang into center field.

Warfield scored the tying run without a play and a scowl stretched across Hawkins' countenance.

The fun had just begun. Shortstop Pat Peterson, who had fielded brilliantly all day, filed to right, sending third baseman John Urban to the plate.

Urban immediately spanked a base hit to left, with Scarborough stopping at second.

Greenwald stepped to the plate and drove in the winning run with a single to center. Scarborough beat a good throw by Jim Brown to the plate to close out a Cinderella finish.

Logan got the win despite yielding the only Music Room run. Jerry Deml started the contest and yielded only two hits. Two runners reached on errors in the third against him, and Music Room had the bases loaded with only one out in the inning.

But Deml got shortstop Bob Lyons to bounce to Peterson, who started an inning-ending double play.

Stan Osterbur followed Deml to the mound and was nothing short of untouchable. Lyons' infield hit was the only blemish on his record. He fanned three in his three innings of work.

Meanwhile, Hawkins was moving down Mercer hitters. He retired the first five hitters he faced, gave up a hit to second baseman Bob Hughes, then retired the next 19 in a row before the faithful ninth.

Hawkins fanned three, walked none.

Schnefke to do his thing in Denmark

Do you like Danish in the morning?

Dave Schnefke will be thinking Danish morning, noon and night after departing during the weekend for Copenhagen, Denmark, where he will play basketball for the Denmark club in world competition, including Europe and the United States. He also will teach basketball to fifth and sixth grade students.

A former Granite City High School North star, 6-8 Schnefke set basketball scoring records for two years at Lewis and Clark College, Clatskanie, Ore., and then won plaudits for his defensive play at Loras College, Dubuque, Ia. He graduated from Loras this spring.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schnefke, Rural Route One, Granite City, he scored 33 points against Mater Dei of Breese as North High inflicted that team's only regular-season defeat in 1973-74.

His father also played varsity basketball at a time when his 6-0 height was more impressive than it would be on a hardwood court today. And most of the eight children have displayed athletic prowess.

Brother Bob, a Bailey Technical School graduate, played four years of basketball at North. Debbie Schnefke was a regular player on the successful Steeler girls' quintet at North.

Dave Schnefke played at Granite City High school (now South) until two high schools were established in the fall of 1973, so he is one of the transitional team members who was both a Warrior and a Steeler.

He's looking forward to his next visit here and to this November, when he and six touring Denmark teammates are scheduled to go to Iowa to play Loras College.

DENMARK BOUND. Former Granite City North basketball star Dave Schnefke will be doing his thing scoring points, for a Denmark team in world competition. Schnefke left for Copenhagen over the weekend.

SIU stops Mexican team as Ebert scores twice

EDWARDSVILLE — Just for a split second there Saturday afternoon the large, loud and laughing crowd of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville felt a cold chill as a visiting University of Mexico team scored first (at 7:30) on their Cougar kickers.

The visitors' clever forward-striker, Enrique Camacho, took advantage of a defensive miscue at midfield and booted the ball easily past SIUE's veteran keeper, Bob Robson. The crowd didn't know much about the Mexican team except that Quincy College earlier in the week had to rally to defeat them, 3-2.

But, from that point on, it was all high points for Coach Bob Guelker and his SIUE team as the Cougars rallied to win it, 7-2, in an awesome demonstration of collegiate soccer skills.

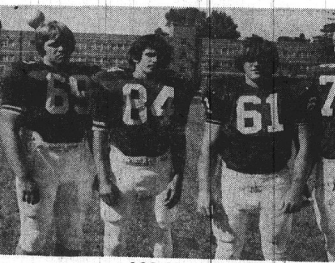

Tim Guelker, playing at midfield along with Dave Hummert and Bob Rozada, tied it up, 1-1, on a neat pass from Hummert. Brian Higgins, on a devastating boot from the right side while on the move, set again on a pass from Hummert.

put the Cougars ahead. Winger Jeff Cacciatore, scoring the first of two goals, gave SIUE a convincing 3-1 lead at the end of the first 45 minutes of play. And the Cougars were on their way.

Peaky as a flea, Cacciatore increased the Cougars' lead to 4-1 a little over nine (54:02) minutes into the second half, again on a beautiful solo effort goal. At 61:10, Camacho booted home a direct penalty kick to complete the scoring for Mexico.

And, then the Cougars' All-American candidates at center-forward, striker Don Ebert, scored a pair of beautiful solo goals within about five minutes in a demonstration of sheer skill. Matt Malloy, on an assist from Bob Rozada, completed the Cougar scoring.

This Friday, the Cougars will play Southern Methodist University at Dallas, and then Sunday move a little north to Denton, Texas, to battle North Texas State U. Both the Mustangs and the Mean Green side won victories over a touring, highly-ranked UCLA team.

Lindsay Construction wins Heine Meine Tournay

ST. LOUIS — The Lindsay Construction Co. team of 8-year-old boys from Granite City won the championship of the Heine Meine Tournay in its division here recently.

The team, under the coaching of Harry Briggs, is actually a T-ball team, which means the boys had not faced a pitcher before the tournament.

In three games, against pitching, however, Lindsay proved it belonged. It beat Hampton Village 26-7, Tile Grove Bank 13-3 and LeMay Plumbing in the championship game 22-5.

In the first game, Mike Georgeoff was the winning pitcher. In the second, Harry Briggs Jr. took the win. In the third game, Timmy Hutchinson was the winner.

The team also won the T-ball League Championship of the Granite City Park District recently. The team's record this season was 18-1. Over two years, the teams' mark was 29-1.

Soccer, then basketball and baseball for Lutheran Knights

Metro-East Lutheran High School, 1327 Vaughn Road, Wood River, now in its second year, has its eyes on the ball — a soccer ball, that is.

The Lutheran High Knights will engage in their first interscholastic competition in soccer.

For the fall 1978 season, the Knights, under the direction of Coach and Athletic Director Roger Sprengel, will be on a junior varsity level.

The new school has a ninth and tenth grades enrollment at this time. The first call will graduate in 1981.

Members of the 1978 junior varsity soccer squad are: "Jimmy Anderson and Doug Mayer of Granite City.

Brian Seim, Chuck Gerstenecker, Clarence Harrison, Gary Schneider, Steve York, Randy Willmore and Keith Wilmore — all of Collinsville.

Mark Strieter and Will Ebel of Edwardsville.

Dean Voelker of Troy, Philip Powell of East Alton, and Earl Helm of Edgemont.

The Knights currently hold field at the Good Shepherd Lutheran Church athletic field in Collinsville.

A permanent home for the new school and the Knights is planned for the Center Grove

Road area in Edwardsville. Coach Sprengel has developed a six-game schedule for the Knights, and is still looking for additional games or scrimmages. Home games are in capital letters:

Sept. 6—Waterloo

Sept. 8—Bethalto

Sept. 12—Madison

Oct. 2—WATERLOO

Oct. 13—BETHALTO

Oct. 19—Madison

Other athletic programs planned by the new school are boys' junior varsity basketball and baseball.

The soccer team practices daily from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. at Good Shepherd Field.

SIU-E faces rugged slate for 1978 soccer season

EDWARDSVILLE — The soccer schedule which the National University of Mexico team will play in an invasion of the United States in September has been announced.

Starting Aug. 27, the Mexicans will play Quincy College, from there, the south-of-the-border kickers will move into the middle of Illinois to battle, 3 out with Sangamon State University at Springfield, Aug. 30. Then Saturday, Sept. 2, the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Cougars will host the visitors in a 1:30 p.m. contest.

The rest of the Mexicans' schedule:

Sept. 4—at Ohio University, Athens, O.; Sept. 7—Davis and Elkins College, Elkins, W. Va.; Sept. 14—University of Akron, Akron, O.; Sept. 15, 16, 17—three games in the Cleveland area—probably Cleveland State, Bowling Green U. and Kent State; Sept. 23—Boston University, Boston, Mass.; Sept. 24—Brown University, Providence, R.I.

GRAIN MEETING The new National Farm Organization (NFO) grain bargaining program will be the topic of the Madison County Chapter meeting at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday in the Holiday Inn, Edwardsville. Speaker will be William Cook, East St. Louis marketing area bargaining representative of the NFO.

REINHARDT—Realtor Sells—BETTER LIVING

Wide range of backers salutes sheriff nominee

It wasn't so much what was done at Emil Toffant's wine and cheese party Thursday night that made the news as who was doing it.

The party for the Democratic nominee for Madison County sheriff attracted a wide array of political figures, ranging from regular Democrats to middle-of-the-roaders and even a few Republicans. About 500 persons filled St. Mary's parish center in Madison for the event.

"The turnout is sure different than at the party before the primary," Toffant commented as he greeted arriving persons at the door.

Toffant opposed the regular Democratic party and its endorsed candidate, James Estes, in the primary election, but Estes was among the party members on hand Thursday night to show support for the nominee.

Christ Costello, chairman of the Madison County Democratic Central Committee, and Nelson Hagnauer, former chairman of that committee, also were among those present.

Other Democratic party regulars on hand included

State Attorney Nicholas G. Byron, Educational Superintendent Harold "Gene" Briggs, State Sen. Sam Vadalabene, Mayor Mike Sasyk of Madison and William "Mike" Eberhardt of Venice, Venice Township Supervisor Christ Paschoff and County Board Member Arthur "Cooper" Moore.

Also present were former State Rep. Sam Wolf, Public Defender Paul Riley, State Rep. Harold Byers and Venice Township Trustee Gary Novich. Chouteau Township Highway Commissioner Wilfred "Big" Eberhardt, Madison City Clerk John Bellocq, Madison City of Police Donald Bridick and many others attended.

Making appearances were County Clerk Evelyn Bowles, county treasurer candidate Mick Henkhaus, State Representatives Joe Lucco and Jim McPike, Judge William Johnson, Granite City Township Assessor Von De Cresse and Chouteau Township Supervisor Walter "Dick" Sparks. The latter is running for re-election to the county board on a third-party ticket.

Guests present included Dan O'Neill, John Cooper, chief of field operations for retiring Sheriff John Marras, Associate Judge George Moran Jr., Granite City Chief of Police Ronald J. Veizer.

United Steelworkers district director Buddy Davis; the Rev. Ralph Scherrer, OFM, pastor of St. Mary's Catholic Church; Republican Leonard Hylla, who is a Metro-East Sanitary District trustee, Bill Burns and many others.

Mayor Sasyk served as master of ceremonies for a brief presentation which included the introduction of dignitaries and of Toffant.

Costello thanked everyone for coming and urged all to unite and work together for across-the-board Democratic victories in the Nov. 7 general election.

Toffant asked for a moment of silence to honor the late Dick Mudge Jr., Edwardsville attorney and former state's attorney whose funeral was held Thursday, and the hall came to complete silence for a full minute.

Toffant then thanked everyone for support and pledged to do his very best if elected sheriff of Madison County.

UNION LABEL WEEK proclamation is signed by Mayor Paul Schuler, seated, shown with Edward Heintz, Union Label Committee chairman for the Quad-City area. Heintz is a letter carrier. Area unions will stress the importance of shopping for products bearing the union label this week through Sept. 10.

Observe Union Label Week

Union Label Week is being observed throughout the Quad-City area this week, with union leaders and members stressing the importance of buying products bearing the union label.

Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler proclaimed Union Label Week Sept. 4 through Sept. 10, last week said.

The proclamation said: Whereas, the American labor movement is dedicated to improving and maintaining good working conditions and wages for American workers through collective bargaining distinctive emblem—the union label, shop card, store card and service button—are symbols of quality and skill, of cooperation between workers and employers, and of the success of the American economic system.

Whereas, the American Federation of Labor and Service Trades Department have together designated September 4 - 10, 1978, as Union Label Week.

Now therefore, be it known that I, Paul Schuler, mayor of the city of Granite City, Illinois, do hereby proclaim the week of September 4 - 10, 1978, as Union Label Week in the city of Granite City, Illinois, and do call upon all citizens to observe this special week in honor of organized labor by displaying the union label, shop card, store card and service button, and by patronizing the products and services of union labor which are identified by these emblems.

DAVID PATTERSON

In marksmanship competition

Airman First Class David G. (Jerry) Patterson will travel to Travis AFB, Calif., in September to compete in the Military Airfield Command (MAC) rifle and pistol competition.

He will represent the 437th Security Police of Charleston AFB, Charleston, S. C.

Patterson has earned expert ribbons with the M-16 rifle and .38 caliber pistol.

Patterson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Patterson, 2412 Benton Ave., and is the son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Sudholt, 3081 Fair Oak Lane.

He is married to Connie Marie (Sudholt) Patterson. They are living in Charleston Heights, S. C.

RICHARD D. McNEILLY'S PARENTS OF 1ST CHILD Mr. and Mrs. Richard D. McNeilly, 103 N. Cherry St., Mount Olive, Ill., are the parents of their first child, a son, born Aug. 16, at Memorial Medical Center in Springfield, Ill.

Mrs. McNeilly is the former Cheryl H. Uhly of Mount Olive.

The infant has been named Trevor Jordan.

Maternal grandparents are Mrs. Hortense (Voyles) Uhly, Peterson and the late Omer H. Uhly. Ronald J. Peterson is the infant's step-grandfather. All are from Mount Olive.

Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Alvin T. McNeilly Sr., also of Mount Olive.

Road signs, other work scheduled

A $38,701 contract has been awarded to Collins and Hermann, Inc., St. Louis, to furnish and install Great River Road shields and signs on Interstate 270 between the Mississippi River and Glen Carbon, and on I-70 from the river to Illinois Route 111.

For $176,906, Maintenance Coatings Co., Addison, will provide railroad warning signs and pavement markings for railroad grade crossings throughout Madison and St. Clair Counties, the Illinois Transportation Department reports.

Maclair Asphalt Co., Collinsville, for $669,836 will improve 2.40 miles of Illinois Route 102 from three-quarters-mile west of the Troy western city limits to the edge of that city. Work will include widening, resurfacing and placing signs.

Arrest on warrant

Steve R. Curless, 19, of 2411 Missouri Ave., was arrested near his home at 4:30 a.m. Friday on a warrant alleging contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

Curless and another young man allegedly were with two teenage girls after curfew Aug. 23 and were taken to the police station. While awaiting questioning, the two young men allegedly ran from the police station lobby.

Auxiliary police seek new members

The Granite City Auxiliary Police are accepting applications for new members and interested candidates are being requested to attend an open house Sept. 12 from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. at the Civil Defense Training Center, 1411 Nineteenth St., upstairs.

Applications also will be accepted each Tuesday evening from Sept. 12 to Oct. 3 at the same location.

The Granite City Auxiliary Police have been operating continuously for nearly 30 years, assisting the regular police in times of disaster, as well as for parades, traffic and crowd control.

Special training is offered at regular meetings and training sessions on a variety of police-related subjects including pistol training, riot control, arrest law, traffic control, specialized rescue training and others.

Instructors include Granite City policemen and specialists from many areas. Most training is done at the regular monthly meetings, but some special sessions are offered, including pistol practice on the new police pistol range.

Applicants must be at least 19 years old, male, and have a clear police record. Volunteer auxiliary policemen serve without compensation, other than the satisfaction of serving the community in times of need, according to Auxiliary Police Chief John Becker.

The Auxiliary police are called out when the regular police need help during natural disasters or for special events. The recent train derailment near Collinsville in which a propane gas car exploded and others were in danger of exploding was one of many incidents for which the Granite City Auxiliary Police have been needed.

Unique French language text

Three instructors of French at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville have written a unique foreign-language textbook now available to high school and college teachers.

"Le francais des nos jours" has been created for the career-oriented student who cannot be content with merely a reading knowledge of French, but who must also speak it, the authors state.

The instructors—Claude Francis, Rino Cassanelli and Gertrude Marti—are all specialists in the French language. Prof. Francis received her Certificate de Literature Française from the Sorbonne, Paris, and her Ph.D. degree from the University of California at Los Angeles.

Cassanelli is the recipient of the French Government Award for Excellence in French Study and is co-author of "Italian Graphic Grammar."

Prof. Marti, an emerita associate professor of foreign languages and literature at the university, has performed much research into many dialects of French, including an intensive study in West Africa. Stressing oral proficiency, the new text draws its vocabulary from present-day professions ranging from industry to agriculture, from the arts and sciences to business. It is illustrated with 34 photographs. "Le francais des nos jours," with 430 pages, is designed for a one-year college course or a two-year high-school program. It is being published by the Southern Illinois University Press.

Train hits car as driver jumps

Thomas Stanford, 29, of Rural Route One, Box 1337, Granite City, escaped serious injury by jumping out of his car as it was struck by a Norfolk & Western train at the Rock Road crossing south of Bauer Road in Venice Township at 11:10 p.m. Thursday.

Stanford said he did not see the eastbound train approaching until it was too late to avoid the accident. He then swerved the car to the right, opened the passenger side door and jumped.

The train dragged the car about one-fourth mile, demolishing it. Stanford went to St. Elizabeth Hospital with pain to his right hand and was released after X-rays were taken.

Brandt joins law firm here

Dennis A. Brandt, a former assistant state's attorney and more recently a Madison County public defender, has joined the local law firm of William J. Mateyka, M. Joseph Hill and Thomas A. Hill with offices in the Crossroad Plaza Shopping Center. The firm also has offices in Highland. The firm name will remain Mateyka & Hill.

Brandt resides in Edwardsville with his wife and their two children. He is a graduate of the University of Illinois, receiving his bachelor's degree in 1967 and his law degree in 1973. He served three years of active duty in the U.S. Army.

After admission to practice before the Illinois Supreme Court in 1973, Brandt served as an assistant state's attorney until 1976. He served as an assistant public defender from 1977 until joining Mateyka & Hill.

He also is admitted to practice before the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of Illinois.

Disaster aid for 9 Illinois counties

Disaster area designation of nine Illinois counties due to excessive drought comes as "much appreciated" news for drought-stricken farmers, according to Harold B. Steele, president of the Illinois Farm Bureau. The declaration came following the Farm Bureau's request for help, Steele said.

Last week's announcement by John Linfield, Illinois state director of the Farmers' Home Administration, makes low-interest loans available to qualified farmers in Edwards, Franklin, Gallatin, Hamilton, Jefferson, Saline, Wayne, White and Williamson counties.

Broadcast of tomorrow's Thompson-Bakalis debate

WSIB-FM (88.7) will air the second in a series of four gubernatorial debates between Illinois Gov. James R. Thompson (R) and Comptroller Michael J. Bakalis (D) Wednesday at 8 p.m.

WSIB-FM is the radio station of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. The candidates will address questions on the subjects of education and social services. Panelists for the event will include Gary Adkins, legislative correspondent for Illinois Issues magazine, and Peggy Boyer, reporter for the Illinois Times.

Other panelists are Robert Hartley, group editor of Lindsay-Schaub newspapers, and Mary Toberman, legislative chairman of the League of Women Voters of Illinois.

Moderator for the debate is John Callaway, news and current affairs director for WTTW in Chicago.

End wheelchair lift bus service in Quad-Cities

Routes of several bus lines serving Illinois were affected last week as the Bi-State Development Agency implemented the first phase of fall service changes on its 161-route system. Other bus service changes, primarily on Missouri lines, will take effect Tuesday, Sept. 5.

Special school trips which were halted in June were reinstated as part of today's service changes, and a new Saturday round-trip in Alton will be added to the Alton-St. Louis line.

Employees of Belleville Memorial Hospital and Friendship Villa Nursing Home now have new direct Bi-State service, with select trips of the Swansboro-North Bell route extended to 48th and W. Main. Due to low ridership, Lebanon and East McKinley weekday trips which leave High Street at 7 p.m. were eliminated.

Bi-State, the first public transit system in the nation to utilize wheelchair lift-equipped buses in regular fixed route operation, is concentrating its 22 accessible bus schedules to better accommodate handicapped riders, a spokesman said. The changes will enable it to serve "100 percent of the handicapped riders who now regularly use the service."

Scheduled buses with wheelchair lift equipment will no longer operate on the McKinley Bridge route, but will continue on the Belleville-St. Louis and Alta Sita lines, with some modifications.

Labor Day weekend (Sept. 2-4) represents the unofficial end of summer and is marked by such events as the closing of the O'Fallon municipal swimming pool and the discontinuation of service to that facility by buses on the O'Fallon route. This weekend also will mark the final days of operation of the Forest Park Summer Swinger, Six Flags Exposed, and Riverfront Skipper as special County public

Environmental center classes

Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will offer three training courses during the fall quarter for water supply and wastewater treatment plant operators through its Environmental Resources Training Center.

The evening classes, aimed at managers, supervisors and operators of potable-water supply and wastewater treatment facilities, offer credit toward the operator certification program administered by the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency.

The training will assist operators in improving plant efficiency to meet stringent federal and state requirements, according to James O. Bryant (692-2030), director. The classes will stress preventive maintenance, cost-effective procedures, principles and theory of operation and improved safety.

The ERTC schedule includes: Wastewater Treatment Operations I (WW 101, Wednesday, 6:30-9:20 p.m.) for 3.3 CEU. It begins Sept. 26. The text, also usable for PWS 102 and 103, is $20.

Potable Water Supply Operations I (PWS 101, Tuesday, 6:30-9:20 p.m.) for 4.0 CEU. The course will begin Sept. 28.

Tuition for all three classes, which continue through the first week in December, is $87. Fees are payable at the first class meeting in cash or check or by purchase order from the employer.

CRANE FOR PRESIDENT

'Sweet tooth' aching from high prices

Candy consumption has dropped sharply in recent years—a fact which carries a lot of weight in industry deliberations these days.

People definitely slow down their candy consumption when prices rise—meaning, in economists' jargon, that candy has a marked price elasticity.

As interviews around the nation reveal, candy industry executives blame the falling consumption on big price increases—necessitated by sharp increases in prices of sugar (which have since receded) and then a huge rise in cocoa (which finally ebbed somewhat this year).

As a result, per capita candy consumption has been steadily dropping in the United States, according to a new U.S. Department of Commerce study. In 1973, candy consumption per capita was 18.6 pounds; last year, it was all the way down to 15.4 pounds.

The cost of ingredients is the major factor. Sugar more than doubled in price in 1974 alone.

Cane sugar, for example, leaped from 14.07 cents per pound, on average, in 1973 to 34.25 in 1974. Last year, it was back down to 17.28—but cocoa was soaring. In 1975, its average price per pound was 56.2 cents; last year, it was $1.72.

During 1977, according to Monica Montavon, industry specialist for the Commerce Department, candy ingredient costs totaled 40 percent of revenues, up from 38 percent the previous year. Industry sales grew last year $3.06 billion from $2.92 billion—up 5 percent, or less than inflation, but poundage dropped 6 percent, to 3.25 billion pounds produced by candy makers from 3.47 billion.

Price is the main factor, said Montavon: "Manual factors raised prices and reduced the size of the product as well, and consumption dropped. Also, there is a lot of controversy about nutrition. One group even demanded that the FTC (Federal Trade Commission) totally ban TV advertising of snack foods containing sugar."

Over at the FCC (Federal Communications Commission), another group wanted candy banned on the airwaves and labeled a "hazardous product," because of its harmful effect on teeth. (That request was not granted.)

Fleeting out the picture, industry executives also tend to blame price, rather than the health controversy.

Said Lloyd Elston, president of Connecticut's

Q. Could you tell me why Carol Burnett isn't on anymore? Will she ever be back on television again? — K.C.

A. After years of doing the weekly variety show, "The Carol Burnett Show," she decided to call it quits as far as the series is concerned. She does not plan to retire from show business, however. And undoubtedly, she'll probably be in another series, but it's a matter of finding the right type of series.

Peter Paul Inc. (planning to merge into London's Cadbury-Schweppes Ltd.), "Nutrition is a small factor. The health controversy has been around a long time in the media; people already have an awareness of the sugar content of candy."

"Last year was the first year of the 20-cent candy bar and that's where the biggest part of the drop (in the industry) was," said Elston, stoutly maintaining that Peter Paul didn't suffer as badly as others.

Elston, for one, believes that the consumption pattern of adults is more favorable to the industry than that of children. "Our major market is adults, and they weren't a problem; it was the kids who became a little bit leery when prices went up," he said.

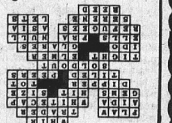

But Melvin J. Gordon, chairman of Chicago's Tostitos Roll Industries, countered: "The two-cent and five-cent candy has held up better than other parts of the industry, and one reason is the children. They adjust faster than adults. If you cut your size, the children know it fast and let you know—but they adjust to it faster. They know value," he said. "The children continue consumption patterns, while adults may cut back."

Knighthood would be nice, but...

Our motherland on the other side of the ocean, which is experiencing high inflation figures like ours, is trying every trick in the book to financially straighten out the economy.

QUEEN ELIZABETH even offered RICHARD BURTON knighthood with certain strings attached. He would have to return to England and pay back taxes for the preceding five years.

Rich said no. His $3 million meant more to him than knight hood.

Drop in auto, can steel shipments offset by service centers, oil, gas

A 1.2 million ton drop in shipments of steel to the automotive and container industries during the first half of this year was more than offset by sharply higher shipments of steel products to the steel service center and oil and gas industries, new American Iron and Steel Institute figures show.

Consequently, AISI noted, shipments of steel products increased 3.9 percent in the first half of this year to 49,040,878 tons, from 47,214,084 tons in first-half 1977.

Shipments in June of this year reached 8,787,418 tons, the highest level since June 1977's 8,810,630 tons. Shipments in May of this year were 8,609,915 tons.

The automotive industry paced June 1977 shipments, accounting for 2,066,024 tons or 23.4 percent of total shipments. This compares to 1,827,749 tons, or 20.8 percent of total shipments in June of this year.

In the first half of this year, shipments to the automotive market were 10,396,000 tons, a decline from the 11,385,000 tons shipped to this market in the same period last year, according to AISI.

Shipments to steel service centers totaled 1,615,066 tons in June and 8,882,419 tons in the first half of this year, compared to 1,487,386 and 7,765,229 tons in the comparable periods of 1977.

Also showing a substantial increase for the first six months this year were shipments to the oil and gas industry. They rose to 2,272,677 tons, an increase of 36.7 percent over the same period last year.

Shipments to the container industry, primarily cans and closures, declined by 6.3 percent to 3,449,360 tons.

With the exception of mining, quarrying and lumbering and the shipbuilding industries, most other major market classifications showed increases in receipts of steel over the six months of last year.

Steel product shipments increased modestly in the first half in spite of an 18 percent share of apparent supply taken by foreign steel, AISI noted. In the first six months of 1977, the foreign share of supply was nearly 15 percent.

Among all of the dirt bands, this one's best

HOLLYWOOD—In a dozen years you might be the Dirt Band would be a pretty creaky rock machine. After all, the "nitty gritty" was abandoned along the way and half of the original members have gone elsewhere.

But Dirt Bands is hanging in there, still collecting its share of hit records and still drawing the fans at the concert halls—even Russia was on the recent tour list.

"We've got the best band of musicians we've ever had in the Dirt Band," said vocalist-guitarist Jeff Hanna, one of the founding members of the sextet.

Hanna even jumped in and produced their current album for United Artists, an appealing LP that is a doozy of a record. In fact, it's the Dirt Band's "In for the Night" and Jeff Pollard's "You Can't Stop Loving Me Now."

"We looked around and couldn't find anyone else who suited us," said Hanna of his producing chores.

In addition to Hanna, the other founding members are guitarist-vocalist Jimmie Fadden and John McEuen, "Mr. Versatile," who, on this album, is heard on seven instruments—fiddle, banjo, acoustic guitar, pedal steel guitar, mandolin, dobro and lap slide guitar.

The three new members are drummer Merle Bregante, strings and horn player Al Garth and bassist Richard Hathaway.

Butz campaigning in state

Former Agriculture Secretary Earl Butz is making a major attack on the Carter administration's farm policies during campaign appearances in Illinois. His next appearance is Sept. 14 at Monmouth.

Butz, the agriculture dean emeritus at Purdue University, says:

"Here's what the administration has accomplished: 'It has reduced real, no farm income. It has succeeded in making us the residual suppliers to world markets. 'It has accumulated 600 million bushels of grain reserves as competition to American growers for the specific purpose of preventing $3-a-bushel corn and $10-a-bushel soybeans.

"It has raised the government's share of net farm income to nearly 30 percent, whereas the previous administration reduced it almost to zero. The real effect of this program is again to make farmers dependent on government payments for their income."

Butz added with tongue-in-cheek:

"The press has been unfair to Mr. Carter. He's interesting and resourceful. It's just his brother in Washington who turns me off."

Butz will speak at a fund-raiser at Monmouth for Sharon Sharp, John W. Castle and Jim Skelton, Republican nominees for secretary of state, comptroller and treasurer. Butz added:

"I want to do everything possible to help elect Republicans. After the 1980 census, Illinois will be redistricted, and it's urgent to restore Republican legislative control before this."

"I also want to help your governor, Jim Thompson, get a Republican legislature to help his programs."

Boat, float bridge tests planned here

On or about Oct. 9 and continuing through Nov. 28, the U.S. Army Test and Evaluation Command and the Material Testing Directorate from the U.S. Army Aberdeen Proving Ground will conduct a variety of operational and functional tests to evaluate small boat capability with respect to handling a float bridge.

The base of operations for the testing will be the Granite City Army Installation.

Activities will consist of launching boats and floating bridge sections from the shore and along the Mississippi River. All operations will be confined in the old river channel to the area between miles 193.0 and 194.5, not in the present navigation channel.

All efforts possible will be made not to interfere with river traffic in the main channel, and safety boats will be operating with raft missions to assist should the test boats lose power or have other difficulties.

Raymond A. Buchanan, Chief of Channel 16 and 22 VHF-FM) will be in use during the test to insure proper communications between test boats, river traffic and the Coast Guard.

"All vessel operators are being advised to keep clear of the test area during this test period, since the maneuverability of the test boats will not be known until conclusion of the tests, and this could prove hazardous to anyone in the area," Lambert A. Buchhold, acting chief, Operations Division, St. Louis District, Army Corps of Engineers, commented.

Zubin and Itzhak to perform

Conductor Zubin Mehta and violinist Itzhak Perlman will join forces in a 60-minute concert. The Los Angeles Philharmonic at the Hollywood Bowl, at 8 p.m. Tuesday, Sept. 12, on Channel 9. The program was taped at the Hollywood Bowl and intermissions scenes from the morning rehearsal with the evening performance.

In the fall of 1978, Mehta, who has directed the Los Angeles Philharmonic for 16 years, will leave his post and go to New York to assume the directorship of the New York Philharmonic. He is 42 years old.

Perlman, an acknowledged master among world violinists, was born in Tel Aviv. By the time he was ten, he was an experienced performer. In 1956, at the age of 13, Ed Sullivan invited Perlman to New York for an appearance on his television show, and in 1965, Perlman made his debut at Carnegie Hall with the National Orchestral Association.

FIRST GUEST, Louis Nornberg, class of 1930, arrives at the class reunion of Madison High School students in the Madison Memorial Center during late summer. Nornberg was given a souvenir MHS letter opener by reunion committee members Mrs. Josephine Georgoff, member of the class of 1935, center, and Mrs. Eva Maurer, right, member of the class of 1939.

Hunting, wildlife projects

Governor James Thompson, in signing two bills last week to increase state hunting and fishing license fees, outlined conservation projects which will benefit from the additional revenue.

A new controlled pheasant hunting area will open this fall in McLean County.

Striped bass and muskie will be introduced in state lakes, and the Little Grassy Fish Hatchery in Williamson County will be improved.

A new fish hatchery will be constructed at Sand Ridge State Forest in Mason County, Gov. Thompson said.

Other projects include expanded efforts to protect the state's rivers and streams from illegal channelization, roadside seeding for improved nesting and conditions for pheasants, and expansion or improvement of existing wildlife projects.

BROWNSTOWN FIELD DAY TO FEATURE RESEARCH

Brownstown Field Day will provide an opportunity for Madison County farmers to view university agriculture research on a first-hand basis. The Brownstown Research Field is the nearest research field to Madison County.

The field day is scheduled for Friday, Sept. 8, at the Brownstown Agronomy Field near Brownstown. Wagon tours will begin at 8:30 a.m. Highlights of the field day will include wheat varieties, corn and soybean herbicides, fertility, irrigation and pasture improvement.

Four charged in fight at Venice

Two women will face a court hearing Friday at Edwardsville on charges filed as the result of a fight involving four women at Douglas and Weaver street in Venice last week.

A third woman is to appear at a hearing Sept. 25 and the fourth has pleaded guilty and fined $135, according to Venice police reports.

Police said Sharon Lee Ingraham, 31, of 163 Lee Wright Homes, charged with unlawful use of a weapon and aggravated battery, and Florence Williams, 23, of 118 West Second St., Madison, charged with unlawful use of a weapon, are to appear at hearings Friday.

Carolyn Carter, 18, of 84 Lee Wright Homes, is to be given a hearing Sept. 25 on a charge of disorderly conduct.

Jessie Ruth Manson, 22, of 820 Webster St., who had been charged with resisting arrest, disorderly conduct and with escape after she left a police squad car the night of the fight, has pleaded guilty and fined, police said.

ARREST AT KIRKPATRICK

Doyle L. Miller, 43, Edwardsville, was charged with disorderly conduct for allegedly displaying a pellet gun and threatening to kill two women in the 100 block of Kirkpatrick Homes at 5:10 p.m. Thursday.

Police stopped a car near where the incident occurred and alleged finding a pellet gun under the front seat. Miller, the driver, then was arrested.

NEW TIME FOR CAVETT

The Dick Cavett Show, currently broadcast at 10 weeknights on Channel 9, will also air at 7 p.m. Mondays through Fridays beginning now and at 10 p.m. Saturday nights beginning Sept. 9. The Saturday night run replaces the 10 p.m. Friday broadcast.

Symphony at Athens festival

The St. Louis Symphony Orchestra, accompanied by more than 100 patrons on a chartered DC-10, embarked Sunday for Athens, Greece, to play three concerts tomorrow through Friday at the Athens Festival. It is the only American group which will perform at the festival this year.

Conducting the concerts will be Jerzy Semkow, music director and principal conductor, and Leonard Slatkin, who will succeed Semkow as conductor of the orchestra in September 1979.

Soloist for the Athens Festival will be violinist Isaac Stern. The orchestra will perform in the 5,000-seat Herod Atticus theater, built in 161 A.D. on the south slope of the Acropolis.

Bakalis, Percy, Scott backed by district labor

Two Republicans and four Democrats seeking statewide offices were given backing last week by the 23rd Congressional District Committee on Political Education of the American Federation of Labor-Congress of Industrial Organizations.

"These endorsements are the result of the Aug. 29 meeting of the affiliated delegates to the 23rd District COPE," Chairman Roger E. Pool and Recording Secretary Floyd W. Johnson said.

Endorsed candidates for Nov. 7 election are:

Sen. Charles Percy, U.S. Senate.
Michael J. Bakalis, for governor.
Richard J. Durbin for lieutenant governor.
William J. Scott, attorney general.
Alan J. Dixon, secretary of state.
Roland W. Burris for comptroller.
Jerome A. Consentino for state treasurer.
Cong. Melvin Price, U.S. Congress, 23rd District.
Sen. Vince DeMuzio, State Senate, 49th District.
Sen. James Donnewald, State Senate, 55th District.
Sen. Sam Vadabene, State Senator, 56th District.
Sen. Kenneth Buzbee, State Senate, 58th District.
John Sharp and Gary Hanning for the Illinois House, 49th District.
Mike Slape, Illinois House, 55th District.
Rep. Jim McPike and Sam Wolf for state representatives, 56th District.

Abduction, home invasion, prison work legislation

Governor Thompson has approved bills dealing with child abduction, home invasion, late gasoline tax payments, and prison industry capabilities.

A "child abduction" offense, created by House Bill 2775, will deal with persons who violate court custody orders by taking a child out of Illinois or by concealing the child in the state.

Under provisions of Senate Bill 771, home invasion crime was made a Class X felony in cases where the invader threatens force or harms occupants.

House Bill 2718 stops penalties on business firms who can show reasonable cause for delayed payment of sales and gasoline taxes.

Prison industry capabilities were expanded through House Bill 2669 to include sales of goods and services to federal, state and local government units in other states.

This provision allows expansion of constructive activity for inmates. Gov. Thompson commented.

State helping fight chronic disorders

(Office of Lieutenant Governor Dave O'Neal)

Q What role, as mandated by the State of Illinois, does the Department of Public Health play in relationship to the people of Illinois?

A It is mandated "to provide general supervision of the interest of the health and lives of the people of the state," including senior citizens.

There are many mandated roles, such as the licensing of health facilities, reporting to Social Security for certification of health facilities, enforcement of sanitary practices, and efforts to control certain chronic diseases.

Q What services are provided by the Department of Public Health that affect senior citizens?

A There are many services in the department which affect senior citizens. One service of primary concern is the licensing, surveillance and similar activities related to the operation of health facilities.

These facilities include hospitals, nursing homes, private laboratories, blood banks, and home health agencies.

The department is the appointed representative of the Social Security Administration for the certification of institutions and agencies providing services to senior citizens and receiving funds under the Medicare and Medicaid portion of that Act.

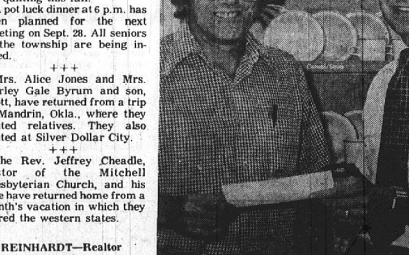

Q Other activities which affect senior citizens?

A There are many services in the department which affect senior citizens. One service of primary concern is the licensing, surveillance and similar activities related to the operation of health facilities.

These facilities include hospitals, nursing homes, private laboratories, blood banks, and home health agencies.

Q Does the Department of Public Health have a person or persons directly responsible for services or problems relating to senior citizens?

A The Department of Public Health does not have one person directly responsible for services or problems relating to senior citizens. But it has personnel in all of the services mentioned who are responsible for such activities.

SENIOR CITIZENS SEEKING CHARTER

Senior Citizens of Chouteau Township met at the community center for their monthly get-together. Ferd Segar, president, presided. Avalon Young, secretary, reported a charter has been requested from Springfield.

Six new members were enrolled. Various projects were discussed.

The ladies plan to put a quilt in after the Labor Day holiday for quilting this fall.

A pot luck dinner at 6 p.m. has been planned for the next meeting on Sept. 28. All seniors of the township are being invited.

+++ Mrs. Alice Jones and Mrs. Shirley Gale Byrum and son, Scott, have returned from a trip to Mandrin, Okla., where they visited relatives. They also visited at Silver Dollar City.

+++ The Rev. Jeffrey Cheadle, pastor of the Mitchell Presbyterian Church, and his wife have returned home from a month's vacation in which they toured the western states.

REINHARDT-Realtor Sells-BETTER LIVING

MOTIVATIONAL SPEAKER James T. Dornoff of Milwaukee, Wis., addressed the more than 700 teachers in the Granite City School District last week, inspiring them to enjoy their jobs.

"which will leave a lasting impression on all mankind for generations. Happiness, isn't doing what you like. Happiness is liking something you have to do," he told the teachers.

Registration near for the fall quarter

Registration for fall quarter classes at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will begin Sept. 18, according to Robert Bruker, director of admissions and records.

Registration by appointment only is Sept. 18 from 8:30 a.m. until 7 p.m. and Sept. 19 from 8:30 a.m. until 1 p.m.

Open registration is scheduled Sept. 19 from 1 until 7 p.m. and Sept. 20 from 8:30 a.m. until 7 p.m. All registration activity will be conducted in the Meridian Ballroom of the University Center.

Students having a disability affecting mobility and dexterity, as well as those students with visual impairments, must qualify for preregistration.

Students needing to preregister must visit University Health Services, Room 0202 of the John S. Rendleman Building, to get certification cards clearing them for preregistration.

Preregistration for the fall quarter is Sept. 13 from 8:30 a.m. until 4 p.m. in the Enrollment Office, Room 1308 of the Rendleman Building.

Fall quarter classes will begin Sept. 25 at 7:30 a.m.

Students who find it necessary to make changes in their schedules may do so beginning Sept. 22. Other dates returning students need to remember include Sept. 29, the last day to pay fees without a late fee and the last day to add a class before a permit.

Greaves a director of water firm

It was announced Friday that R. W. Greaves, vice president and manager of the Illinois-American Water Company, has been elected a director of that company.

Greaves has been associated with the American Water Works System of Companies since 1956 and with Illinois-American since 1968.

The utility serves a population of approximately 300,000 in St. Clair and Madison counties.

Delay ban on certain foods in the schools

Final regulations to ban sale of candy, soda water, frozen desserts and chewing gum in school cafeterias until after the last lunch period will not be implemented early in this school year. Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Carol Tucker Foreman has announced.

The department delayed its plan to issue final regulations in time for the new school year in order to consider more fully the large volume of public comments, she said.

Public Law 95-166, enacted last November, authorized the department to regulate the sale in schools of foods that compete with the school food service program.

Rules to implement the new position of the law were proposed in April. The department's Food and Nutrition Service received more than 2,100 comments from students, parents, teachers, school administrators, nutritionists, doctors, dentists, the food industry, concerned citizens and many others before the comment period closed on June 30.

"Those who support the proposed rule far outnumber those who oppose it," Mrs. Foreman reported. "However, many letters urge that the ban be extended throughout the day, and apply to other low nutrient-high calorie foods as well."

"Some of those who oppose the proposed rule believe it infringes on individual choice, or that the distinctions it makes regarding food categories are unfair and arbitrary."

"Some also would like to restrict the ban to the school cafeteria, rather than apply it throughout the school building."

"It is important that we take the necessary time to consider thoroughly all the points raised," she said.

Until new rules are issued, schools will continue to operate under existing regulations, which allow state and local authorities to adopt and enforce their own food policies.

Air monitor, other airport construction

The Bi-State Development Agency has completed an agreement with the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency which provides for location of an EPA air monitoring system at the Bi-State Parks Airport near Cahokia.

Under terms of the one-year pact, the EPA will construct a 25-foot-long shelter and a 30-foot tower with instrumentation to monitor and record pollutant levels and air contaminants, and to measure air pollutant levels. The installation will be located on 1/2 acre of airport property in return for a fee of $54 per month.

The EPA will have total responsibility for construction, operation and maintenance of the air monitoring station as well as installation of any related electric power and telephone lines.

Current plans at Parks Airport call for a new instrumental landing system, terminal building, access road, railroad overpass, expanded aircraft parking apron and acquisition of additional land.

The Federal Aviation Administration, Economic Development, Administration and Illinois Division of Aeronautics are cooperating with Bi-State in the improvements.

The airport's primary hangar building was recently destroyed by fire and arson is blamed.

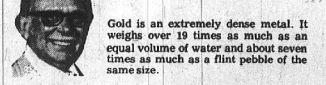

New hangar facilities may be available by Jan. 1.

The second busiest aviation center in the metropolitan area, Parks has services for general aviation, air charter and air taxi services.

Assertiveness for 'Women Involved'

Assertive behavior is the direct, honest, appropriate expression of ideas, opinions and wants in a way that allows you to stand up for your own rights without infringing on the rights of others. Sharon K. Margolus, co-director of Women's Programs at the University of Missouri-St. Louis, states.

Miss Margolus will be the principal speaker at "Women Involved," the extensive day-long series of workshops and programs of interest to all women, not only those who are employed full-time.

The special program is being sponsored by the Granite City Business and Professional Women's Club for all area women, regardless of employment status and age level. Registration fee is $5 which covers the cost of a luncheon and style show. The program starts at 9:30 a.m. and concludes at 3:45 p.m.

Those wishing to register are urged to contact Mrs. Wilma Large, 3701 Ruth Drive, or call 797-6615, or Ruth Belleville, general chairman, at 797-0165. Miss Margolus will conduct the assertiveness training program between 9:30 a.m. and 11:30 a.m. Sept. 16. She has a master's degree in education with a major in Behavior Studies and Research from the University of Missouri.

She earned a bachelor of science degree in education, majoring in home economics, from Western Illinois University at Macomb.

Currently, she is enrolled in the Doctor of Philosophy Degree program at St. Louis University.

For the past two years, she has been co-director of Women's Programs in Continuing Education-Extension, at the University of Missouri-St. Louis, where she organizes and offers a program of short courses each semester.

Miss Margolus also is responsible for designing and teaching courses, hiring instructors, writing brochures, publicity and budgets.

The guest speaker also provides in-service training to Extension Division specialists, lecturing in campus courses and to community groups, and liaison with community and campus specialists.

Between 1962 and 1967, she spent two and one-half years in St. Clair County and the same length of time in McDonough County.

In St. Clair County, she supervised over 1,000 4-H'ers and was instrumental in organizing the first 4-H clubs in the East St. Louis area.

From 1967 to 1971, Miss Margolus was home economist in the University of Missouri Extension service and was responsible for foods and nutrition program for adults and youth in St. Charles County. She also trained local food leaders for Homemakers Extension clubs and 4-H and other youth programs.

Miss Margolus was credited with developing the first extension programs for women in areas other than home economics, including courses in self-improvement, practical psychology and discussion groups on the changing roles of women.

In addition to her job as a continuing education specialist at the University of Missouri from 1971 to 1977, Miss Margolus served as a consultant and teacher for the United States Civil Service Commission.

She has coordinated and taught courses in Assertive Training in the St. Louis metropolitan area and in out-state Missouri. She also has supervised the Independent Study Program in St. Charles County and set up and assisted in administering CLEP examinations in St. Charles and Jefferson counties of Missouri.

While working toward her master's degree, Miss Margolus did internship in counseling in the office of Dr. Margaret Fagin.

She is a member of the American Association of University Women, Epsilon Sigma Phi, of which she was chairman of the Professional Improvement Committee in 1976; Beta Xi Chapter of Phi Lambda Theta. She has held several key chairmanships in the University of Missouri Extension Association, and the Missouri Association for Adult Continuing Education.

In her program here, Miss Margolus will present a brief background of assertive training and definition of the behaviors and concepts.

She also will explain the differences between assertion, nonassertion and aggression and how to discriminate among the behaviors by recognizing the intentionality of the verbal messages and the covert message of the nonverbal delivery.

Miss Margolus will describe specific blocks individuals can use to stop oneself from acting assertively, and also show a stimulus film, entitled "Assertive Training for Women."

PRINCIPAL SPEAKER Sharon K. Margolus, co-director of Women's Programs at the University of Missouri-St. Louis, who will present the Assertiveness Training segment at the "Women Involved" program, set Saturday, Sept. 16, at Granite City High South cafeteria.

Tax cheating charges filed

Illinois Department of Revenue investigators last week filed the first of a series of criminal charges resulting from investigations into possible widespread tax cheating by Chicago, taverns and restaurants. Of 90 businesses audited by the department during a three-month period, 73 were found to owe a total of more than $300,000 in delinquent taxes, department spokesmen said. The department plans to expand its tax probe activities, and anticipates that more criminal charges will be filed.

NO. AB 84 (SUB-NO. 2) NOTICE OF INTENT TO ABANDON OPERATIONS

Illinois Central Railroad Company hereby gives notice that on or about October 2, 1978, it intends to file with the Interstate Commerce Commission, Washington, D. C. 20242, an application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity for the abandonment of the Illinois Central Gulf Railroad extending from Mont, Illinois, to Springfield, Illinois, a distance of 81.24 miles in Madison, Macoupin, Montgomery, and Sangamon Counties. The Illinois Central Railroad is a tenant for operating purposes only on the line and does not have any other interests in the line. The reason for the proposed abandonment of operations is the request by the Illinois Central Railroad to abandon the major portion of this line and the initial approval of such request by the Interstate Commerce Commission in AB 43 (Sub-No. 30). Illinois Central Gulf has offered substitute track rights for a substantially parallel line between Wood River and Springfield, Illinois, and the Illinois Central Railroad, by separate application, is making request for track rights over the substituted line.

This line of railroad has appeared on the system diagram map in category 1 since March 28, 1978. The interest of railroad employees will not be adversely affected by the proposed abandonment of the Illinois Central Railroad. The Illinois Central Railroad, by separate application, is making request for track rights over the substituted line.

Automated guideway transit under study

"Traffic congestion, air pollution, energy conservation and the need to accommodate people on trips too long for the first and last mile of conventional mass transit necessitates the exploration of innovative ways to meet transportation needs."

This is the view of Barry M. Locke, executive director of the Bi-State Development Agency, who announced Thursday that the agency is soliciting proposals for a downtown people mover (DPM) feasibility study in St. Louis and also studying other ways to diversify its service.

The Bi-State study is the first in St. Louis for this type of transportation system and is designed to determine whether a downtown people mover system is feasible here," Locke said. If the feasibility study results are favorable, preliminary engineering and design work would follow.

Locke also announced that Bi-State is forming a technical review committee which will include representatives of the City of St. Louis, East-West Gateway Coordinating Council, and Downtown St. Louis.

Purpose of the committee is to assist in selection of a project to insure that all local plans and interests are incorporated into the feasibility study.

The people mover concept has been tested in environments as airports, amusement parks and campus settings. To date, it has not been tested in heavily-developed downtown areas, where it may have the greatest potential impact.

It is a type of automated guideway transit (AGT) system which is fully automated, computer controlled, and operates without drivers along an exclusive right-of-way.

A concrete surfaced guideway could be constructed at both ground and elevated levels to provide exclusive right-of-way for vehicles of the people mover system.

In addition to being computer controlled and fully automated, such a system could provide two types of service.

A passenger may select a destination at the origin of his trip in the same manner as he would call an elevator in an office building. A single vehicle would respond to the trip request and provide the passenger with non-stop transportation to the selected destination.

Service could also be pre-scheduled for peak traffic periods, with a number of vehicles moving between stations at predetermined time intervals.

The study, which will take about 12 months to complete, will cost approximately $200,000. Portions of the study will be funded by the Urban Mass Transportation Administration (U.M.T.A.). Locke said 20 percent of the project cost is being covered through sales taxes received from the City of St. Louis and St. Louis County.

Young woman's body in former Olin site pool

The body of an unidentified young woman was found floating in the "blue pool" of the former John Olin estate at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville at about 7 p.m. Thursday. The estate is located along the Mississippi River on the bluffs north of Alton.

University Police said there was evidence the woman had been murdered before she was thrown in the pool of water which is approximately 45 feet deep. She was handcuffed and numerous wounds were found on the body.

The woman was described as 17 to 20 years of age, 5'8", 140 pounds, white, with blonde hair. She was wearing blue jeans, a white blouse and a gold necklace, and her fingernails and toenails were painted red. Police estimate she had been in the water approximately 48 hours.

The partly visible body was observed by two boys who were walking by the pool. SIUE Police were notified at 9:30 p.m. The body was recovered by the Alton Rescue Squad at approximately 9:47 p.m. and was taken to a funeral home in Alton.

The pool, adjacent to a high cliff, is approximately 50 feet wide and 150 feet long. The body was discovered near the middle of the pool, which is the site of a former limestone quarry.

Police said divers were used in the search for evidence, and a complete investigation of the area around the pool was launched as soon as daylight became available Friday.

The Madison County Sheriff's Department and the Illinois Department of Law Enforcement are assisting with the investigation.

SIUE has owned the Olin property since it was given to the university by Mr. and Mrs. John Olin in 1975.

STRIKE UP THE BAND. The Madison High School Trojan Band marches south on Klein Street in Venice Saturday during the eighth annual Newport Homecoming Parade kicking off a weekend of homecoming activities at Lee Park. The marching band was one of the first units in the parade which wound through the streets of north Venice and West Madison ending up at the Venice City Hall where many of the parade participants headed into Lee Park.

Mine subsidence insurance signed

Governor James R. Thompson signed legislation Friday aimed at providing Illinois residents with underground mine subsidence insurance for the first time.

The governor approved House Bill 158, sponsored by Representative Coletto M. Stiel, Belleville, and Monroe L. Plinn, Cahokia, and Senators Gene Johns, Marion, and Sam Vadalabene, Edwardsville, during a ceremony in the Belleville City Council chambers.

Hearings by the Illinois House Executive Subcommittee on Mine Subsidence began in the chambers in August 1976. The legislation signed by Thompson embodies an approach recommended by the subcommittee after its hearings and research were completed in November 1976.

"This is an innovative bill," the governor said. "It should be viewed as an experiment that will be watched closely by every mining state in the nation."

"If it succeeds — and I believe it can — the other states are likely to pattern their approach to mine subsidence insurance after ours."

"I believe this is a reasonable approach to the problem. Homeowners are protected from damages in the same way they are protected from fire and theft. And they will pay sufficient premiums to cover all losses."

"Properly run, the program should require no state subsidy. So it is not a giveaway."

The next step in the Illinois effort, Thompson said, will be for the state to provide start-up funding for the program, which cannot begin until the funding is provided. The money may come from any source approved by the General Assembly.

House Bill 158 provides:

1. Mine subsidence insurance will be available to property owners in counties where underground mining has occurred.

2. Insurance firms will sell such insurance coverage at reasonable rates approved by the Department of Insurance.

3. All mine subsidence insurance premiums paid by policyholders will be placed in a state-sponsored Mine Subsidence Insurance Fund.

4. Insurance companies will pay subsidence claims, which will be reimbursable from the fund.

J. F. Visintine dies at 26

Involved in fight

A group of six to eight men who had been drinking began arguing and then fighting in Keith's Lounge, 2701 Washington Ave., Friday night, police were told.

Officers who answered a disturbance call said an employee told them the men broke several cue sticks and a window in the back door before leaving in a pickup truck.

DRIVER INJURED

Injuries suffered by Gary Shrum, 18, of 1701 Courtenay Blvd., driver of a car involved in an accident, were treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital at 6:35 p.m. Thursday. Shrum said his car was hit from behind, suffered an abrasion to the left arm and pains to the neck and left shoulder. He was x-rayed and released.

Shot accidentally, condition improves

Charles G. "Jerry" Warmack, 33, of 2207 Iowa St., was in good condition at St. Elizabeth Hospital today after undergoing surgery for a bullet wound in the abdomen suffered Friday night.

Warmack was wounded, police said, during an argument with a woman friend outside the Tavern, 2160 Washington Ave., at 9:15 p.m.

The woman, Diane White, told officers that Warmack accidentally shot himself. Police said Warmack, before going into surgery, refused to give any information, but that he told a hospital physician that he had shot himself accidentally.

Witnesses told police that Warmack left the tavern shortly before the shooting occurred, and that Miss White followed him. Later, the woman ran into the tavern saying, "Call an ambulance. Jerry's been shot."

Police quoted Miss White as saying that after they were outside the tavern an argument developed. In the course of the argument, she related, Warmack reached into her purse and took out a .22 caliber revolver and placed the barrel of the gun to his head.

She said she called, "What are you doing," and grabbed Warmack's arm. As his arm came down the gun discharged, police said the woman told him. She then ran into the tavern to get help.

Warmack underwent surgery immediately after he arrived at the hospital. Authorities said the hospital informed them that the bullet entered Warmack's abdomen about one inch above the navel and "bounced around," causing six internal puncture wounds and lodged in the vertebrae. The bullet was not removed.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Maude (Cave) Van Zant; two children, Mrs. Hazel Boyles and Ralph Clutts, both of Granite City; a brother, Melvin Van Zant of Evansville, Ind.; three sisters, Mrs. Iva Murphy of Paducah, Ky., Mrs. Lonnie (Kale) Petty, Princeton, Ky., and Mrs. Athel (Marge) Haydon of Florida; five grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

Jack Van Zant, 72, dies today

Jack Van Zant, 72, of 1715 State St., a native of Tennessee, died at 7:30 a.m. today at St. Elizabeth Hospital where he had been a patient for one week.

He had been ill four months. Mr. Van Zant was employed as a plater and night watchman at the Finley Plating Co. for 20 years.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Maude (Cave) Van Zant; two children, Mrs. Hazel Boyles and Ralph Clutts, both of Granite City; a brother, Melvin Van Zant of Evansville, Ind.; three sisters, Mrs. Iva Murphy of Paducah, Ky., Mrs. Lonnie (Kale) Petty, Princeton, Ky., and Mrs. Athel (Marge) Haydon of Florida; five grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

Neighbors hold man until police arrive

Responding to a call from a resident in the 1700 block of Chestnut Street at 5:30 p.m. Monday, police found several neighbors holding a man on the ground when they arrived. They alleged the man was yelling, cursing women and causing a general disturbance. Arrested, and charged with disorderly conduct was Leonard Christner, 2022 Dewey Ave.

Hearing Tests Set For Senior Citizens

Granite City — Electronic hearing test will be given at the new Belton Hearing Aid Service branch office every Wednesday from 10:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m.

Factory-trained Hearing Aid Specialists will be at this branch office at Skoety's Jewelry & Card Shop, 1304 Niedringhaus, Granite City to perform the tests.

Anyone who has trouble hearing or understanding is welcome to have a test using the latest electronic equipment to determine if his loss is one which can be helped. Some of the causes of hearing loss will be explained, and diagrams of how the ear works will be shown.

Everyone should have a hearing test at least once a year if there is any trouble at all hearing clearly. Even people now wearing a hearing aid or those who have been told nothing could be done for them should have a hearing test and find out whether the latest methods of hearing correction can help them hear better.

The free hearing test will be given every Wednesday from 10:00 p.m. at Skoety's Jewelry & Card Shop, 1304 Niedringhaus, Granite City. If you can't get there on Wednesday, call 876-6414 and arrange for an appointment at another time. In-home testing is also available.

A black and white photograph of a Kroger Cost Cutter coupon. The coupon has a decorative border with vertical lines on the sides. At the top, it says "KROGER COST CUTTER COUPON". Below this, there's a large "30¢ OFF" in bold letters. Underneath, it specifies "32-LB. CAN KROGER PEANUT BUTTER". A paragraph of fine print follows: "with this coupon. Limit one coupon. Expires Saturday Night, Sept. 9, 1978. Subject to applicable State and Local Sales Tax." To the right of this text is a small box containing "SAVE 30¢". At the bottom left, there are some numbers: "0V-30888 MAC TOTAL $1.03".

ARTICHOKES

Fresh artichokes add a gourmet feeling to any menu. Cook in salted water with a squeeze of lemon juice to help retain color. A Hollandaise sauce is appropriate with hot artichokes and a vinaigrette sauce when they are served cold.

From the leaves, eat the fleshy ends attached to the plant. Lift out the cone and cut out the core (choke), which is the "fuzzy" portion of the center. The heart is a true delicacy that will break readily with a fork.

Stuffed artichokes, filled with seafood or meat mixture and baked, is another appetizing way to serve artichokes.
